

20TH YEAR. NO. 41.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1903.

TWO CENTS.

TWELVE BELOW ZERO COLDEST OF WINTER

The Mercury Took a Most Surprising Tumble Shortly Before Midnight Last Night.

BLIZZARD STILL ON, BUT RELIEF IN SIGHT

The cold weather, by several degrees the coldest of the winter, has the city practically at its mercy and as a result much suffering is being reported from the poor districts and the impediment to railway traffic and business generally is being keenly felt.

According to thermometers stationed in several locations of the city the mercury reached its lowest figure before midnight. At the entrance of the East Liverpool bridge 12 degrees below zero was reported and at Craig's drug store, Fifth and Market streets, the mercury dropped to 8 below. In the West End 6 below was registered and the average lowest point reached over the vicinity was about 7 below. The startling drop at the river's edge is not to be wondered at, such conditions always prevailing around the waters.

Before morning a decided rise was noticeable and by 8 o'clock the cold had moderated sufficiently to banish alarming prospects. Throughout the day, however, only people who considered it absolutely necessary were to be found on the streets, toasting their feet before a bright fire being the preference.

One feature for which the populace has offered many thanks is the generally plentiful supply of gas. It is seldom when a cold snap settles on the vicinity that the gas does not run.

aggravatingly low but at this time it has flown with regularity, except in portions of the East End, and caused no inconvenience, with the exception of a few hours this afternoon.

The township trustees have been continuously applied to for aid, the most calls being, however, for fuel. Some of the less fortunate were destitute of both heat and food but few of the latter have come to notice. In Shantytown there has probably been the most suffering. Nearly every resident of that district is out of coal and water-soaked wood was the only resort. Such fuel gives poor heat and in consequence distressing conditions prevailed.

Street cars are running on the best schedule possible but with great difficulty. The Wellsville line has been troubled more than those to any other points. Snowdrifts piled along the highways entering the city from the country districts have made it almost impossible for the farmer to reach town and all roads being so obstructed the business men have suffered financially.

Snow feel at intervals nearly all day and the wind kept it in motion.

Warmer weather is promised for tonight and tomorrow and the prognosis has been hailed with joy not only locally but over the entire country.

FIERCE ATTACK BY FOUR MEN

Desperate Attempt to Kill John Elliott Followed by an Exciting Chase.

A feud originating in Chester last summer and never dying during the many intervening months came near resulting in terrible injury or possible murder to John Elliott, an ex-police man of Chester, at an early hour yesterday morning in the vicinity of the Albion house, when the four men with whom he had had trouble met him.

To his fleetness of foot he assigns his escape from those who had vowed at sight to lay him in cold blood. Since his removal from the Chester force he has lived a few miles back of this city and upon his every visit he has been on the lookout for the quartet, knowing their character and realizing that they are not the men to shrink from any act of maliciousness. Upon his arrival in the city he was careful as before, and when he entered the Albion house late at night he did not suspect that his dreaded antagonists would be there. Without a word the entire bunch started at him, one with a huge knife and three with clenched fists. Frightened so badly that he could not even entertain a thought of defense he turned like a flash and ran with all speed to the city hall, where he notified Officers Dunn and Mahoney of his experience.

The officers immediately started out in search of the four daring men and soon caught sight of three of them. It seems that they saw the officers at the same time and without delay started on a run for the South Side bridge. When they landed at the toll station the officers were only a short distance in the rear, but the pursued gained and effected an escape.

Foiled in their attempt to capture the trio the officers decided to return and institute a search for the one man, who, it is said, held the knife which no doubt would have figured in a death blow. While walking on Third street, eyeing every man closely their man saw them coming and knowing their purpose, quickly planned a successful mode of escape. A street car passing at the time, going at a terrific rate, was utilized by the nifty man who ran out in the street, boarded the car, opened the door hastily and fell prostrate on the floor. The officers closely scrutinized the car but saw no one in it.

Elliott is fearful of an awful culmination to his trouble with the men and will not be at ease until they are apprehended, which no doubt will be the case upon their next visit to this city.

CARR WAS NOT CAUGHT

Charles Carr is still uncaptured. Notwithstanding the fact that the officers have been near him the greater part of the time since he viciously attacked Attorney George Ingram and Lee Kidd who were attempting to arrest him, he has eluded them. They learned that he was in hiding Monday night at Congo and yesterday afternoon a number of officers, including Sheriff C. F. Allison, Constable J. H. Allison, Deputy Sheriff O. O. Allison, Attorney George H. Ingram and E. S. Good went after him.

They left Chester on the afternoon train and went where they had heard that Carr was hiding. They searched the house thoroughly but found that he had left. They knew positively that he had been there the night before but evidently had been afraid that he would be found and had again left for the Ohio side. Two of the officers remained all night in close proximity to the house but Carr did not come near the place. He will be arrested. CAMERON WILL NOT LOSE ITS POTTERY

Town Council Stands By the Company and Does Not Heed a Protest.

A RIVAL ELECTRIC PROJECT

Responsible for the Attempt to Put the Pottery Men Out of Business Work Now Resumed on the Building of the Plant.

Cameron, W. Va., February 18.—(Special).—The controversy between the lower council and the Cameron Pottery company is settled, the protest to the council proving unavailing. Work is now proceeding again. Concerning the dispute and its origin S. E. Stricklin makes the following statement:

"When the Cameron Pottery company was organized the stockholders agreed to connect with the pottery company an electric light plant to furnish light to the town of Cameron, as well as operating the light machinery by electricity. The council which was in office during the time of the organization of the Cameron pottery company granted a franchise through the streets and alleys for the purpose of erecting poles and wires necessary to the operation of the light plant. The electric light plant and also the Cameron Pottery company are owned by the same stockholders and are one and the same thing. S. E. Stricklin, manager of the pottery company, gave a bond to the directors of the Cameron company that he would erect the light plant and pottery for a certain sum of money and operate it for the period of 30 days. He would then turn it over to the directors of the Cameron Pottery company, at which time he would have fulfilled his contract with the company and be released from the responsibility of the contract. Under these conditions Mr. Stricklin could not build the pottery without building the light plant, nor could he build the light plant without building the pottery.

"After the old council, which granted the former franchise to the Cameron Pottery company had retired from office, the new council, which had been duly elected, had been installed. Mr. Emsheimer made application to council for another franchise for an electric light plant in Cameron. While knowing that two such plants would not run in a town of this size, the Cameron Pottery company offered no objections to the new council granting a franchise to Mr. Emsheimer, simply knowing that the Cameron Pottery company could furnish light as cheaply as any other competing company, and that it would be the survival of the fittest in the end.

"The Cameron Pottery company had gone ahead, secured their poles and placed them around the town, ready to be put up, and everything was proceeding very nicely in the work when Mr. Emsheimer brought in a protest to the town council, praying that it would revoke the former franchise granted the Cameron Pottery company, which, it was claimed, was not legal.

"Under these circumstances the pottery company, having already started work on its plant, decided that if the old franchise was revoked, Mr. Stricklin could not fulfill his contract, and notified the council and citizens of Cameron that they would not proceed any further with building until the matter of the franchise was settled. Several cities, hearing of this, immediately offered all kinds of favorable inducements to move their plants from Cameron and locate in their city, but the stockholders and members of the Cameron Pottery company advised Mr. Stricklin not to proceed any further with the work on the factory, or make any other arrangements with any outside town for a location until the matter had been definitely settled at the next regular meeting of council which took place on the 16th of February.

"After the pottery company had taken this stand, the citizens of Cameron immediately came to its assistance circulating petitions through the town for the signature of the business men and citizens, praying that the new council would grant and confirm the old franchise granted to the Cameron Pottery company. Last evening, at a regular meeting of the council, before which the matter was to be brought up, the citizens of Cameron turned out en masse.

ANTI-SALOON CAMPAIGN CONTINUES IN LISBON

A Temperance Society Keeping Up the Fight—Will Have Another Ball Law Election.

Lisbon, February 18.—(Special).—The anti-saloon people of Lisbon, having been defeated when the question of excluding the saloons was submitted to the voters under the Ball law last May, are keeping up a determined "campaign of education" this winter, with the intention of holding another election at the expiration of the two-year limit.

A temperance society has been organized, which meets every Wednesday evening in the M. E. church, and in which some of the most prominent professional men of the county seat take an active part. The meetings are proving very interesting, some phase of the question being presented each evening in a new and varied program which includes, besides the addresses on temperance, recitations, solos, quartets and selections by an orchestra. Large audiences are attracted by these meetings and both the attendance and interest are increasing. Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, will give an illustrated lecture this evening.

Hurt by Falling.

Attorney James McGarry is suffering with a sprained wrist and ankle as the result of an accident occurring this morning while he was descending the steps from his office in the Barker building, Fifth street. Snow had covered the steps making the footing uncertain causing him to slip and fall with violence to the street. The injuries though painful will not necessitate his confinement to home.

A Successful Affair.

The oyster supper given last evening by the Sons of Veterans and G. A. R., under the auspices of the W. R. C., at the G. A. R. hall, was more successful than was expected, owing to the severe weather. A neat sum was realized, which was turned over to the relief fund. After the supper the guests spent an enjoyable social evening.

A Delightful Party.

Miss Mary Morley last evening delightfully entertained about 50 of her friends at her home on College street. The young people spent a delightful hour at cards, after which some time was spent in dancing. Choice refreshments were served. Miss Morley proved herself an admirable hostess.

Going to California.

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE HAS ARRANGED ALL DETAILS FOR PRIMARY NEXT SATURDAY

Polling Places Selected and Committeemen Chosen to Preside Over the Election in the Several Localities.

The Republican city committee held its final meeting last night, and all preparations for the primary election were completed. Nearly all the candidates were present, and most of them took part in the discussions. The first business taken up was the adoption of the official ballot which was submitted by the News Review. The ticket contains the names of each candidate just as it will appear when the elector comes to vote, and was adopted by the committee in the following form:

For Mayor—O. D. Nice, Thomas V. Thompson, Dr. R. J. Marshall, Andy C. Roe.

For President of Council—Robert Burner, John Horwell, Geo. E. Richey, For City Auditor—Willis Davidson, For City and Township Treasurer—Chris Horton, Joseph Betz, For City Solicitor—George E. Davidson.

For Councilmen at Large, (three to nominate)—Joseph Barlow, Henry E. Bullock, Henry Chambers, Herman Fensel, Jr., E. N. Croxall, R. C. Heddlston.

For Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCarron.

For Constable—John McVay, W. E. Cooper, William Copestick, Wm. Zane Davis.

For Township Trustees—Joseph Boardmore.

For Board of Education (three to nominate)—W. B. Hill, E. M. Knowles, Jesse H. Smith.

For assessor (one to nominate in each ward)—First ward—J. S. Fowler.

Second ward—T. O. Terrence.

Third ward—Charles McKee.

Fourth ward—W. H. Gaston.

Township—W. S. McBane.

George Smith, of the Fourth ward offered a resolution providing that a reward of $25 should be paid to the person causing the conviction of anyone caught voting illegally or repeating. The motion was carried unanimously, showing that the members of the central committee and the candidates had no part in any deal of the kind.

The reason for this action is said to have been that several of the candidates had been accused of having a move on foot to secure the services of repeaters. All denied that they knew anything of such a move.

A motion prevailed that all committeemen presenting a bill for their services on nomination day shall receive $2. As there will be three candidates to nominate for the position of councilman-at-large, and two of them will be placed on the ticket for two years and the third for one, the question arose as to who of the three would be the two-year men. It was decided that the two aspirants receiving the highest number of votes should be placed on the Republican ticket for the two year term. The location of the polling places fixed in the nine precincts can be found elsewhere in this edition.

The central committeemen who will have charge of the voting in the different precincts are as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Fed Ferran, Jay Fisher, J. E. Davis.

Second precinct—George Hale, Hugh Clark, J. S. Fowler.

Second ward—First Precinct, W. H. Vodrey, W. B. Hill, H. W. Smith.

Second Precinct—Frank Fowler, A. W. Thomas, Frank Gallimore.

Third Precinct—Crisis McConnell, George Smith, George Goppert.

PROTECTED HER WITH HIS PISTOL

Graham Defended His Sweetheart and Got Arrested for Carrying Weapons.

William Graham, an employee at Vodrey's pottery, last Monday night with revolver in hand, stood defending the young and pretty daughter of John Godwin, of Fifth street, and defying her father and brother.

Miss Godwin is yet in her teens, an attractive brunette, and has been employed in various homes in the city as a domestic. She was last working at the home of George C. Keil, lower Fifth street, and having been discharged was leaving the residence at about 11 o'clock Monday evening in company with Graham when seen by her father.

From the meager details learned at the office of Squire McCarron, where a warrant for the arrest of Graham was issued last evening, the father has objected strenuously to his daughter keeping company with Graham and when he saw them together his first thought was to follow and demand that the girl return to her home. He hastened after the couple and reached them at the corner of Monroe street. Meantime her brother James had joined them.

ed in the chase and was soon on the scene.

Both of the relatives in loud voices commanded the girl to desert her escort and go with them at once. She preferring his company, was not willing to accede to the demand and was expostulating stubbornly when father and son made a dash for her. It was then that Graham took a decided hand in the affair. He leaped between the girl and her persecutors and, flourishing a revolver, very quickly turned the tables. As the girl's protector, he dared them to step further. They grasped the situation and began to shrink backward. In a short time they were homeward bound. Graham, it is said, decided to deliver his charge to her parents, and accompanied her home close on the heels of the vanquished.

On a charge of pointing fire-arms Graham was arraigned this morning, having been arrested while at work by Constable Powell. He was released on furnishing a bond of $100 for his appearance tomorrow evening.

CAMERON WILL NOT LOSE ITS POTTERY

Town Council Stands By the Company and Does Not Heed a Protest.

A RIVAL ELECTRIC PROJECT

Responsible for the Attempt to Put the Pottery Men Out of Business Work Now Resumed on the Building of the Plant.

Cameron, W. Va., February 18.—(Special).—The controversy between the lower council and the Cameron Pottery company is settled, the protest to the council proving unavailing. Work is now proceeding again. Concerning the dispute and its origin S. E. Stricklin makes the following statement:

"When the Cameron Pottery company was organized the stockholders agreed to connect with the pottery company an electric light plant to furnish light to the town of Cameron, as well as operating the light machinery by electricity. The council which was in office during the time of the organization of the Cameron pottery company granted a franchise through the streets and alleys for the purpose of erecting poles and wires necessary to the operation of the light plant. The electric light plant and also the Cameron Pottery company are owned by the same stockholders and are one and the same thing. S. E. Stricklin, manager of the pottery company, gave a bond to the directors of the Cameron company that he would erect the light plant and pottery for a certain sum of money and operate it for the period of 30 days. He would then turn it over to the directors of the Cameron Pottery company, at which time he would have fulfilled his contract with the company and be released from the responsibility of the contract. Under these conditions Mr. Stricklin could not build the pottery without building the light plant, nor could he build the light plant without building the pottery.

"After the old council, which granted the former franchise to the Cameron Pottery company had retired from office, the new council, which had been fully elected, had been installed, Mr. Emsheimer made application to council for another franchise for an electric light plant in Cameron. While knowing that two such plants would not pay in a town of this size, the Cameron Pottery company offered no objections to the new council granting a franchise to Mr. Emsheimer, simply knowing that the Cameron Pottery company could furnish light as cheaply as any other competing company, and that it would be the survival of the fittest in the end.

"The Cameron Pottery company had gone ahead, secured their poles and placed them around the town, ready to be put up, and everything was proceeding very nicely in the work when Mr. Emsheimer brought in a protest to the town council, praying that it would revoke the former franchise granted the Cameron Pottery company, which was claimed, was not legal.

"Under these circumstances the pottery company, having already started work on its plant, decided that if the old franchise was revoked, Mr. Stricklin could not fulfill his contract, and notified the council and citizens of Cameron that they would not proceed any further with building until the matter of the franchise was settled. Several cities, hearing of this, immediately offered all kinds of favorable inducements to move their plants from Cameron and locate in their city, but the stockholders and members of the Cameron Pottery company advised Mr. Stricklin not to proceed any further with the work on the factory, or make any other arrangements with any outside town for a location until the matter had been definitely settled at the next regular meeting of council which took place on the 15th of February.

"After the pottery company had taken this stand, the citizens of Cameron immediately came to its assistance circulating petitions through the town for the signature of the business men and citizens, praying that the new council would grant and confirm the old franchise granted to the Cameron Pottery company. Last evening, at a regular meeting of the council, before which the matter was brought up by the citizens of Cameron turned out en-

TWELVE BELOW ZERO COLDEST OF WINTER

The Mercury Took a Most Surprising Tumble Shortly Before Midnight Last Night.

BLIZZARD STILL ON, BUT RELIEF IN SIGHT

The cold weather, by several degrees the coldest of the winter, has the city practically at its mercy and as a result much suffering is being reported from the poor districts and the impediment to railway traffic and business generally is being keenly felt.

According to thermometers stationed in several locations of the city the mercury reached its lowest figure before midnight. At the entrance of the East Liverpool bridge 12 degrees below zero was reported and at Craig's drug store, Fifth and Market streets, the mercury dropped to 8 below. In the West End 6 below was registered and the average lowest point reached over the vicinity was about 7 below. The startling drop at the river's edge is not to be wondered at, such conditions always prevailing around the waters.

Before morning a decided rise was noticeable and by 8 o'clock the cold had moderated sufficiently to banish alarming prospects. Throughout the day, however, only people who considered it absolutely necessary were to be found on the streets, toasting their feet before a bright fire being the preference.

One feature for which the populace has offered many thanks is the generally plentiful supply of gas. It is seldom when a cold snap settles on the vicinity that the gas does not run aggravatingly low but at this time it has flown with regularity, except in portions of the East End, and caused no inconvenience, with the exception of a few hours this afternoon.

The township trustees have been continuously applied to for aid, the most calls being, however, for fuel. Some of the less fortunate were destitute of both heat and food but few of the latter have come to notice. In Shantytown there has probably been the most suffering. Nearly every resident of that district is out of coal and water-soaked wood was the only resort. Such fuel gives poor heat and in consequence distressing conditions prevailed.

Street cars are running on the best schedule possible but with great difficulty. The Wellsville line has been troubled more than those to any other points. Snowdrifts piled along the highways entering the city from the country districts have made it almost impossible for the farmer to reach town and all roads being so obstructed the business men have suffered financially.

Snow fell at intervals nearly all day and the wind kept it in motion.

Warmer weather is promised for to-morrow and the prognosis has been hailed with joy not only locally but over the entire country.

FIERCE ATTACK BY FOUR MEN

Desperate Attempt to Kill John Elliott Followed by an Exciting Chase.

A feud originating in Chester last summer and never dying during the many intervening months came near resulting in terrible injury or possible murder to John Elliott, an ex-police man of Chester, at an early hour yesterday morning in the vicinity of the Albion house, when the four men with whom he had had trouble met him.

To his fleetness of foot he assigns his escape from those who had vowed at sight to lay him in cold blood. Since his removal from the Chester force he has lived a few miles back of this city and upon his every visit he has been on the lookout for the quartet, knowing their character and realizing that they are not the men to shrink from any act of maliciousness. Upon his arrival in the city he was careful as before, and when he entered the Albion house late at night he did not suspect that his dreaded antagonists would be there. Without a word the entire bunch started at him, one with a huge knife and three with clenched fists. Frightened so badly that he could not even entertain a thought of defense he turned like a flash and ran with all speed to the city hall, where he notified Officers Dunn and Mahoney of his experience.

The officers immediately started out in search of the four daring men and soon caught sight of three of them. It seems that they saw the officers at the same time and without delay started on a run for the South Side bridge. When they landed at the toll station the officers were only a short distance in the rear, but the pursued gained and effected an escape.

Foiled in their attempt to capture the trio the officers decided to return and institute a search for the one man, who, it is said, held the knife which no doubt would have figured in a death blow. While walking on Third street eyeing every man closely their man saw them coming and knowing their purpose, quickly planned a successful mode of escape. A street car passing at the time, going at a terrific rate, was utilized by the nervy man who ran out in the street boarded the car, opened the door hastily and fell prostrate on the floor. The officers closely scrutinized the car but saw no one in it.

Elliott is fearful of an awful culmination to his trouble with the men and will not be at ease until they are apprehended, which no doubt will be the case upon their next visit to this city.

This is the fourth big pottery fire here within a year.

Charles Carr is still uncaptured. Notwithstanding the fact that the officers have been near him the greater part of the time since he viciously attacked Attorney George Ingram and Lee Kidd who were attempting to arrest him, he has eluded them. They learned that he was in hiding Monday night at Congo and yesterday afternoon a number of officers, including Sheriff C. F. Allison, Constable J. H. Allison, Deputy Sheriff O. O. Allison, Attorney George H. Ingram and E. S. Good went after him.

They left Chester on the afternoon train and went where they had heard that Carr was hiding. They searched the house thoroughly but found that he had left. They knew positively that he had been there the night before but evidently had been afraid that he would be found and had again fled for the Ohio side. Two of the officers remained all night in close proximity to the house but Carr did not come near the place. He will be arrested. Requisition papers will be secured to bring him back to the West Virginia side if he refuses to come himself.

CAMERON WILL NOT LOSE ITS POTTERY

Town Council Stands By the Company and Does Not Heed a Protest.

A RIVAL ELECTRIC PROJECT

Responsible for the Attempt to Put the Pottery Men Out of Business Work Now Resumed on the Building of the Plant.

Cameron, W. Va., February 18.—(Special).—The controversy between the lower council and the Cameron Pottery company is settled, the protest to the council proving unavailing. Work is now proceeding again. Concerning the dispute and its origin S. E. Stricklin makes the following statement:

"When the Cameron Pottery company was organized the stockholders agreed to connect with the pottery company an electric light plant to furnish light to the town of Cameron, as well as operating the light machinery by electricity. The council which was in office during the time of the organization of the Cameron pottery company granted a franchise through the streets and alleys for the purpose of erecting poles and wires necessary to the operation of the light plant. The electric light plant and also the Cameron Pottery company are owned by the same stockholders and are one and the same thing. S. E. Stricklin, manager of the pottery company, gave a bond to the directors of the Cameron company that he would erect the light plant and pottery for a certain sum of money and operate it for the period of 30 days. He would then turn it over to the directors of the Cameron Pottery company, at which time he would have fulfilled his contract with the company and be released from the responsibility of the contract. Under these conditions Mr. Stricklin could not build the pottery without building the light plant, nor could he build the light plant without building the pottery.

"After the old council, which granted the former franchise to the Cameron Pottery company had retired from office, the new council, which had been fully elected, had been installed. Mr. Emsheimer made application to council for another franchise for an electric light plant in Cameron. While knowing that two such plants would not pay in a town of this size, the Cameron Pottery company offered no objections to the new council granting a franchise to Mr. Emsheimer, simply knowing that the Cameron Pottery company could furnish light as cheaply as any other competing company, and that it would be the survival of the fittest in the end.

"The Cameron Pottery company had gone ahead, secured their poles and placed them around the town, ready to be put up, and everything was progressing very nicely in the work when Mr. Emsheimer brought in a protest to the town council, praying that it would revoke the former franchise granted the Cameron Pottery company, which, it was claimed, was not legal.

"Under these circumstances the pottery company, having already started work on its plant, decided that if the old franchise was revoked, Mr. Stricklin could not fulfill his contract, and notified the council and citizens of Cameron that they would not proceed any further with building until the matter of the franchise was settled. Several cities, hearing of this, immediately offered all kinds of favorable inducements to move their plants from Cameron and locate in their city, but the stockholders and members of the Cameron Pottery company advised Mr. Stricklin not to proceed any further with the work on the factory, or make any other arrangements with any outside town for a location until the matter had been definitely settled at the next regular meeting of council which took place on the 16th of February.

"After the pottery company had taken this stand the citizens of Cameron immediately came to its assistance circulating petitions through the town for the signature of the business men and citizens, praying that the new council would grant and confirm the old franchise granted to the Cameron Pottery company. Last evening, at a regular meeting of the council, before which the matter was to be brought up the citizens of Cameron turned out en-

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE HAS ARRANGED ALL DETAILS FOR PRIMARY NEXT SATURDAY

Polling Places Selected and Committeemen Chosen to Preside Over the Election in the Several Localities.

The Republican city committee held its final meeting last night, and all preparations for the primary election were completed. Nearly all the candidates were present, and most of them took part in the discussions. The first business taken up was the adoption of the official ballot which was submitted by the News Review. The ticket contains the names of each candidate just as it will appear when the elector comes to vote, and was adopted by the committee in the following form:

For assessor (one to nominate in each ward)—First ward—J. S. Fowler.

Second ward—T. O. Terrence.

Third ward—Charles McKee.

Fourth ward—W. H. Gaston.

Township—W. S. McBane.

George Smith, of the Fourth ward offered a resolution providing that a reward of $25 should be paid to the person causing the conviction of anyone caught voting illegally or repeating. The motion was carried unanimously, showing that the members of the central committee and the candidates had no part in any deal of the kind.

The reason for this action is said to have been that several of the candidates had been accused of having a move on foot to secure the services of repeaters. All denied that they knew anything of such a move.

A motion prevailed that all committeemen presenting a bill for their services on nomination day shall receive $2.

As there will be three candidates to nominate for the position of councilman-at-large, and two of them will be placed on the ticket for two years and the third for one, the question arose as to who of the three would be the two-year men. It was decided that the two aspirants receiving the highest number of votes should be placed on the Republican ticket for the two-year term. The location of the polling places fixed in the nine precincts can be found elsewhere in this edition.

The central committeemen who will have charge of the voting in the different precincts are as follows:

PROTECTED HER WITH HIS PISTOL

Graham Defended His Sweetheart and Got Arrested for Carrying Weapons.

William Graham, an employe at Voadrey's pottery, last Monday night with revolver in hand, stood defending the young and pretty daughter of John Godwin, of Fifth street, and defying her father and brother.

Miss Godwin is yet in her teens, an attractive brunette, and has been employed in various homes in the city as a domestic. She was last working at the home of George C. Keil, lower Fifth street, and having been discharged was leaving the residence at about 11 o'clock Monday evening in company with Graham when seen by her father.

From the meager details learned at the office of Squire McCarron, where a warrant for the arrest of Graham was issued last evening, the father has objected strenuously to his daughter keeping company with Graham and when he saw them together his first thought was to follow and demand that the girl return to her home. He hastened after the couple and reached them at the corner of Monroe street. Meantime her brother James had joined them.

On a charge of pointing firearms Graham was arraigned this morning, having been arrested while at work by Constable Powell. He was released on furnishing a bond of $100 for his appearance tomorrow evening.

McAleer's Body Taken Home.

The body of James McAleer, the victim of the East Liverpool Sagger works fire, was claimed today by his two brothers, Charles and Martin McAleer. The body was taken to Allegheny today on the noon train and the interment will be made there tomorrow.

ed in the chase and was soon on the scene.

Both of the relatives in loud voices commanded the girl to desert her escort and go with them at once. She preferring his company, was not willing to accede to the demand and was exasperated stubbornly when father and son made a dash for her. It was then that Graham took a decided hand in the affair. He leaped between the girl and her persecutors and, flourishing a revolver, very quickly turned the tables. As the girl's protector, he dared them to step further. They grasped the situation and began to shrink backward. In a short time they were homeward bound. Graham, it is said, decided to deliver his charge to her parents, and accompanied her home close on the heels of the vanquished.

On a charge of pointing firearms Graham was arraigned this morning, having been arrested while at work by Constable Powell. He was released on furnishing a bond of $100 for his appearance tomorrow evening.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A COMING WEDDING.

Miss Ella Mercer, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city, left for Sebring, says the Salem Herald. Miss Mercer will be married on February 24, in Warren, to Frank Watson, of Sebring, but late of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Watson is employed as a kiln placer in the Sebring pottery. They will go to housekeeping in Sebring. Miss Mercer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mercer and formerly resided in this city.

WILL NOT BE ACTIVE.

Mention was recently made in several newspapers of the connection of M. F. Albright, of Sebring, in the Carrollton pottery venture, and that he would move from Alliance to Carrollton to become permanently connected with the enterprise. While being interested to a certain extent, it is not his intention to move to Carrollton or to take an active part in the operation of the plant.

COLD SNAP UNWELCOME.

Operatives in all the plants who depended on the street cars to reach their work lost several hours yesterday besides suffering a great deal of inconvenience. They also experienced much trouble in reaching their homes after the day's work was done. Taking it all around the cold snap has not been favorably received and nearly everybody will be glad when it is at an end.

AFTER A LONG ABSENCE.

C. B. Smith, of the mining district of Colorado, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Snyder, of Oregon avenue, Sebring. Mr. Smith was born at New Baltimore, Stark county, and has not been back since leaving in 1879. Being a boy when going, everything seems new and strange about the old hometown. His visit to the potteries was one of much interest and enjoyment.

A GROWING PLANT.

The Lowry Pottery company, at Roseville, has completed the erection of a two-story addition to its pottery thereby making it possible to meet the demand for ware. The pottery is being run by experienced management and has grown from a small concern until now it is one of the busiest centers in Roseville. The ware is durable and attractive.

MOVED TO AKRON.

Mrs. Allen Hargreaves left this week for Akron to join Mr. Hargreaves, who has been employed at the Barberton plant for the past few months. Before going to Barberton Mr. Hargreaves was a packer at Cartwright's, and he is well known and well liked over here. They will go to housekeeping in Akron.

CHANGES AT THE UNION.

William Owens, the well known jiggerman, will leave the East Liverpool this week to take a cup jigger at the Union. Will Downard, who has been operating this jigger, resigns to take a situation at the new Dresden plant at Salineville. He will leave for Salineville this week.

RETURNED TO ENGLAND.

Miss Mary Corrigan, who came from England to Sebring about a year ago and was employed as a gilder in the Oliver China works, has left again for her home beyond the Atlantic. She visited Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hadley a day or so before leaving.

REALM OF SPORTS BASEBALL LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

In Which East Liverpool and a Number of Ohio Cities May Figure.

EARLY MEETING CALLED

To Perfect the Organization of Eight Teams to be Chosen From Eleven Cities—There May be Sunday Baseball.

From present indications East Liverpool is not only going to have a selected baseball team but the team is going to be of a league of Ohio organizations and unless the other teams proposing to join the league make a decided hustle the Crockery City will enjoy the distinction of owning the pennant winners.

There is a scheme on foot to organize a circuit of baseball clubs with only Ohio towns in the league, Steubenville is the smallest town mentioned in the list of cities that are wanted to compose the league but as the town has an envied reputation as a good sporting town, and now that it is growing and so many young people have gone to the city, it is looked upon as a good baseball town and one where semi-professional games would flourish.

The movement to organize a league began a couple of weeks ago and the towns mentioned for teams are Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Steubenville, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield and Mansfield. With these eleven towns it is hoped to get at least eight good teams so that the season can be finished. There would be no big traveling expense, as is the case in so many leagues, and often the cause of their collapse before the season is ended. There is nothing in fact that now advertises a town like a ball club, for it carries the name of the city into months of thousands of people every summer.

The offer to place an East Liverpool team in the league came to Secretary G. Y. Travis from Secretary James F. Reynolds of the Mansfield club, who wrote the following letter:

"We want East Liverpool in the circuit of Ohio Base Ball League, and I thought of no better person to write to for information than yourself. They are figuring on eight cities to form the circuit. Here are some of the cities mentioned: Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield, Mansfield, and would like to have East Liverpool in the league. Of course all of these cities won't be included, but the object is to get eight out of the bunch. Do you think there is a chance to interest some one in your city who will put a team in the league? We are going to play Sunday ball here and will make some money out of it. If it isn't too much trouble, suppose you speak to some one there whom you think would interest themselves in the project, and let me hear from you on the subject. I am secretary of the club here and will get down to your city during the summer if you should have a team in the league. We are going to call a meeting at an early date to perfect the organization."

The Steubenville team was the recognized champion of the state last season and has only been defeated this year by D. C. & A. C., in which game it had but two of last year's men on the floor.

If the "Invincibles" wish to please the patrons of the game in East Liverpool they will arrange a game with Steubenville on a neutral floor and thereby demonstrate that they are a better and more gentlemanly class of players. Surely they are not afraid to try?

A COMING WEDDING.

Miss Ella Mercer, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city, left for Sebring, says the Salem Herald. Miss Mercer will be married on February 24, in Warren, to Frank Watson, of Sebring, but late of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Watson is employed as a kiln placer in the Sebring pottery. They will go to housekeeping in Sebring. Miss Mercer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mercer and formerly resided in this city.

WILL NOT BE ACTIVE.

Mention was recently made in several newspapers of the connection of M. F. Albright, of Sebring, in the Carrollton pottery venture, and that he would move from Alliance to Carrollton to become permanently connected with the enterprise. While being interested to a certain extent, it is not his intention to move to Carrollton or to take an active part in the operation of the plant.

COLD SNAP UNWELCOME.

Operatives in all the plants who depend on the street cars to reach their work lost several hours yesterday besides suffering a great deal of inconvenience. They also experienced much trouble in reaching their homes after the day's work was done. Mr. Smith was born at New Baltimore, Stark county, and has not been back since leaving in 1879. Being a boy when going, everything seems new and strange about the old homestead. His visit to the potteries was one of much interest and enjoyment.

A GROWING PLANT.

The Lowry Pottery company, at Roseville, has completed the erection of a two-story addition to its pottery, thereby making it possible to meet the demand for ware. The pottery is being run by experienced management and has grown from a small concern until now it is one of the busiest centers in Roseville. The ware is durable and attractive.

MOVED TO AKRON.

Mrs. Allen Hargreaves left this week for Akron to join Mr. Hargreaves, who has been employed at the Barberton plant for the past few months. Before going to Barberton Mr. Hargreaves was a packer at Cartwright's, and he is well known and well liked over here. They will go to housekeeping in Akron.

William Owens, the well known jiggerman, will leave the East Liverpool this week to take a cup jigger at the Union. Will Downard, who has been operating this jigger, resigns to take a situation at the new Dresden plant at Salineville. He will leave for Salineville this week.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A COMING WEDDING.

Miss Ella Mercer, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city, left for Sebring, says the Salem Herald. Miss Mercer will be married on February 24, in Warren, to Frank Watson, of Sebring, but late of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Watson is employed as a kiln placer in the Sebring pottery. They will go to housekeeping in Sebring. Miss Mercer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mercer and formerly resided in this city.

WILL NOT BE ACTIVE.

Mention was recently made in several newspapers of the connection of M. F. Albright, of Sebring, in the Carrollton pottery venture, and that he would move from Alliance to Carrollton to become permanently connected with the enterprise. While being interested to a certain extent, it is not his intention to move to Carrollton or to take an active part in the operation of the plant.

COLD SNAP UNWELCOME.

Operatives in all the plants who depended on the street cars to reach their work lost several hours yesterday besides suffering a great deal of inconvenience. They also experienced much trouble in reaching their homes after the day's work was done. Taking it all around the cold snap has not been favorably received and nearly everybody will be glad when it is at an end.

AFTER A LONG ABSENCE.

C. B. Smith, of the mining district of Colorado, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Snyder, of Oregon avenue, Sebring. Mr. Smith was born at New Baltimore, Stark county, and has not been back since leaving in 1879. Being a boy when going, everything seems new and strange about the old homestead. His visit to the potteries was one of much interest and enjoyment.

A GROWING PLANT.

The Lowry Pottery company, at Roseville, has completed the erection of a two-story addition to its pottery, thereby making it possible to meet the demand for ware. The pottery is being run by experienced management and has grown from a small concern until now it is one of the busiest centers in Roseville. The ware is durable and attractive.

MOVED TO AKRON.

Mrs. Allen Hargreaves left this week for Akron to join Mr. Hargreaves, who has been employed at the Harborton plant for the past few months. Before going to Harborton Mr. Hargreaves was a packer at Cartwright's, and he is well known and well liked over here. They will go to housekeeping in Akron.

CHANGES AT THE UNION.

William Owens, the well known jiggerman, will leave the East Liverpool this week to take a cup jigger at the Union. Will Downard, who has been operating this jigger, resigns to take a situation at the new Dresden plant at Salineville. He will leave for Salineville this week.

RETURNED TO ENGLAND.

Miss Mary Corrigan, who came from England to Sebring about a year ago and was employed as a glider in the Oliver China works, has left again for her home beyond the Atlantic. She visited Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hadley a day or so before leaving.

CUT HIS HAND.

Albert Reibe, jiggerman at the Sebring, accidentally cut the index finger of his left hand on the machine. The cut was about the knuckle joint and is a severe one.

Exactly what goes on inside to make the consumptive gain weight when taking Scott's Emulsion is still a mystery.

Fred Stetson, apprentice in the glass end at the Union, returned to work today after a long illness from typhoid fever.

Miss Lillie Rigby, of the biscuit warehouse at the Union, has resigned to finish for Oscar Parker at the Thompson.

George Drake, the popular young kilnman in the biscuit end at the Union, was compelled to leave his work yesterday on account of the mumps.

Frank Bauman, of the Oliver plant, Sebring, is laid up with a sprained knee, the result of a fall he received Sunday. The injury is very painful, but not serious.

Plague Still Virulent.

Mazatlan, Mexico, Feb. 18.—There were three deaths from the plague Monday. Two hundred and two patients with the plague have been admitted to the lazaretto since it was established and 121 have died. These figures do not include the deaths in the city.

To Connect Two Cities.

Toledo, Feb. 18.—Representatives of the Everett-Moore syndicate are baring right of way between Toledo and Detroit and will build an electric line through, giving a connection for the Lake Shore electric and the syndicate's properties in Detroit and to the north.

Rio Janeiro, Feb. 18.—The British steamer Bullucia, in command of Captain Horne, is ashore on the rocks at Guarapary islands, about 20 miles south of Victoria. It is probable that the vessel will be a total loss.

A Prisoner in Her House.

Mrs. W. H. Layha, of 1001 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly." This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

BASEBALL LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

In Which East Liverpool and a Number of Ohio Cities May Figure.

EARLY MEETING CALLED

To Perfect the Organization of Eight Teams to be Chosen From Eleven Cities—There May be Sunday Baseball.

From present indications East Liverpool is not only going to have a selected baseball team but the team is going to be of a league of Ohio organizations and unless the other teams proposing to join the league make a decided hustle the Crockery City will enjoy the distinction of owning the pennant winners.

There is a scheme on foot to organize a circuit of baseball clubs with only Ohio towns in the league, Steubenville is the smallest town mentioned in the list of cities that are wanted to compose the league but as the town has an envied reputation as a good sporting town, and now that it is growing and so many young people have gone to the city, it is looked upon as a good baseball town and one where semi-professional games would flourish.

The movement to organize a league began a couple of weeks ago and the towns mentioned for teams are Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Steubenville, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield and Mansfield. With these eleven towns it is hoped to get at least eight good teams so that the season can be finished. There would be no big traveling expense, as is the case in so many leagues, and often the cause of their collapse before the season is ended. There is nothing in fact that now advertising a town like a ball club, for it carries the name of the city into months of thousands of people every summer.

The offer to place an East Liverpool team in the league came to Secretary G. Y. Travis from Secretary James E. Reynolds of the Mansfield club, who wrote the following letter:

"We want East Liverpool in the circuit of Ohio Base Ball League, and I thought of no better person to write to for information than yourself. They are figuring on eight cities to form the circuit. Here are some of the cities mentioned: Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield, Mansfield, and would like to have East Liverpool in the league. Of course all of these cities won't be included, but the object is to get eight out of the bunch. Do you think there is a chance to interest some one in your city who will put a team in the league? We are going to play Sunday ball here and will make some money out of it. If it isn't too much trouble, suppose you speak to some one there whom you think would interest themselves in the project, and let me hear from you on the subject. I am secretary of the club here and will get down to your city during the summer if you should have a team in the league. We are going to call a meeting at an early date to perfect the organization."

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY THAT CURES

If Mi-o-na Does Not Cure Will Return Your Money.

Mi-o-na, the famous dyspepsia remedy, has made so many cures among his customers that Will Reed says: "If this remedy does not cure you, come back to my store and I will cheerfully return your money."

Anyone who has dyspepsia, indigestion, headaches, dizzy feelings, or liver troubles, should take advantage of this chance to be made well without any risk of spending their money to no purpose. Mi-o-na will cure; will regulate the digestion; will enable anyone to get what he wants. If it does not do all this, the medicine will not cost you a cent.

Remember that Mi-o-na is the only medicine for the cure of dyspepsia that is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

ville is a Little Sore," in which it states that the Y. M. C. A. team has refused to play the Steubenville team a game of basket ball on account of their rough tactics; also that it would not add to their fame to defeat the local team. This latter statement is a little nasty.

The Steubenville team was the recognized champion of the state last season and has only been defeated this year by D. C. & A. C., in which game it had but two of last year's men on the floor.

If the "Invincibles" wish to please the patrons of the game in East Liverpool they will arrange a game with Steubenville on a neutral floor and thereby demonstrate that they are a better and more gentlemanly class of players. Surely they are not afraid to try?

Promoters of Get-Rich-Quick Companies Indicted at St. Louis.

Indictments against promoters of get-rich-quick schemes have been returned by the grand jury at St. Louis. L. A. Gill and E. J. Arnold, of the Arnold & Co. concern, and John J. The indictments against E. J. Arnold, better known in the gambling world as Jim Davis, and Lumpkin A. Gill, alias Gill A. Lumpkin, made public Monday, are under a statute which makes imprisonment in the penitentiary the punishment. The bench warrants, which were issued by Judge Douglass, at the request of the February grand jury, charge fraud.

LIKE FINDING MONEY

B. C. Ansley Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

B. C. Ansley, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist B. C. Ansley that this medicine can be bought for less than 50 cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Any one who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, B. C. Ansley will return your money.

Herndon, Va.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Gentlemen—"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again.

"I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and a third bottle and kept on improving slowly.

"It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a king's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."

EAST END

CAS AGAIN SHORT

The Same Thing Happens in the East End During Every Cold Snap.

The same old story has to be recorded during every cold snap. Residents of the East End are again having their troubles with the gas. Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock it went off entirely and remained off for an hour. This morning at 9 o'clock it again went off in many places, and where it did not go off altogether it was so low that no heat could be secured from it. It did not remain off more than an hour.

So much trouble has been experienced this winter with the gas that nearly all the residents of the East End have equipped their houses with coal stoves, and when the weather turns very cold have a coal fire to depend upon. It has been asserted that the shortage in the gas supply has resulted in the greater part of the sickness in the East End so far during the winter.

HOWELL-M'AFEE

Young Man Well Known in This City to Wed Tonight at Pomeroy.

A wedding is to take place tonight at Pomeroy, which is of considerable interest to the residents of the East End. Harlow McAfee, formerly employed as a clerk at Murphy's grocery on Fifth street, and Miss Amanda Howell, of Pomeroy, are the contracting parties. The wedding will be at the home of the bride's parents and will be a quiet one. Her sister is the only one from East Liverpool who will attend.

Miss Howell formerly resided in this city and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. McAfee is widely known here. The couple will make their home in Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. McAfee is with a large grocery establishment.

Meetings Full of Interest.

The meetings at the Second Presbyterian church are being continued this week under the direction of Rev. N. M. Crowe, the pastor; Rev. A. R. Van Fossen, of Allegheny, and Prof. Morton, of Pittsburgh. Rev. Mr. Van Fossen occupies the pulpit every night and Prof. Norton delights the congregation with his sweet singing. The meetings will continue all the week and Prof. Norton will remain until Sunday. Rev. Mr. Van Fossen will also be here the rest of the week. Quite a number of new members have been received into the church as a result of these meetings.

Twins Seriously Ill.

The twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, are seriously ill with pneumonia. The condition of one of the little fellows is very critical and it is feared that he will not survive today. The other is expected to recover. An older son of Mr. White has just recovered from a serious illness.

Masquerade Ball.

The young people of the East End are anticipating all kinds of fun to night at the masquerade ball to be given at the Larkins' hall in the East End, by Lou Hendricks. No one will be allowed on the floor unless masked. It is probable that some very unique and grotesque costumes will be worn.

Oriental Degree.

The regular meetings of the Oriental club will be held tonight at the P. H. C. hall. A number of city candidates are taking the degree. Nearly half of the candidates are members of this degree. Tonight both candidates for city treasurer will be initiated.

DISCUSSION ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senator Teller Feels Insulted—House Begins Consideration of Naval Appropriation — Amendments to Indian Appropriation Disagreed To.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate yesterday agreed to the financial report on the army appropriation bill. Discussion of the statehood bill was resumed and Mr. Depew continued his remarks in opposition to it. He yielded to Mr. Proctor, who presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill, which was agreed to, and then resumed his remarks.

After Mr. Depew had proceeded for some time Mr. Teller took exception to some of his remarks regarding the unequal representation in the senate. Advancing to the center aisle and speaking with great fervor, Mr. Teller said it was so small thing to talk about changing the form under which this government had grown so great and so strong.

"I have listened to a good deal of nonsense," said he; "I have listened to a good deal I consider beneath the dignity of the senate, but I cannot listen to Mr. Depew's remarks without saying here, as a senator and as a citizen of the United States, I feel insulted and I think the American people will feel this insult from the senator from New York."

Replying, Mr. Depew said he regretted Mr. Teller felt insulted, but "when you add to the minority representation in this senate," said he, "and take it farther away from the people you are calling attention to a condition where you cannot tell what the people may do in the discussions of the future."

Mr. Depew had not concluded when at 4:05 p. m. the senate adjourned.

In the House.

The house yesterday began consideration of the naval appropriation bill under the operation of a rule which made the new legislation relative to the increase of the personnel of the navy and for the increase of the Naval Academy in order. The paragraph in the bill providing $250,000 for a naval station on the Great Lakes went out on a point of order. Mr. Littlefield and Mr. Sulzer had an interesting clash before the naval bill was taken up, the former charging the latter with having perverted the record. After some further remarks general debate closed and the bill was read for amendment.

The senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were disagreed to and the bill sent to conference. Messrs. Sherman, Curtis (Kan.) and Little (Ark.) were appointed conferees.

At 5 p. m. the house adjourned.

Saved From the Maelstrom of Catarrh

The doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again. "I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and a third bottle and kept on improving slowly. "It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a king's ransom to me. I tell Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth." —Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham.

EAST END GAS AGAIN SHORT

The Same Thing Happens in the East End During Every Cold Snap.

The same old story has to be recorded during every cold snap. Residents of the East End are again having their troubles with the gas. Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock it went off entirely and remained off for an hour. This morning at 9 o'clock it again went off in many places, and where it did not go off altogether it was so low that no heat could be secured from it. It did not remain off more than an hour.

So much trouble has been experienced this winter with the gas that nearly all the residents of the East End have equipped their houses with coal stoves, and when the weather turns very cold have a coal fire to depend upon. It has been asserted that the shortage in the gas supply has resulted in the greater part of the sickness in the East End so far during the winter.

Young Man Well Known in This City to Wed Tonight at Pomeroy.

A wedding is to take place tonight at Pomeroy, which is of considerable interest to the residents of the East End. Harlow McAfee, formerly employed as a clerk at Murphy's grocery on Fifth street, and Miss Amanda Howell, of Pomeroy, are the contracting parties. The wedding will be at the home of the bride's parents and will be a quiet one. Her sister is the only one from East Liverpool who will attend.

Miss Howell formerly resided in this city and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. McAfee is widely known here. The couple will make their home in Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. McAfee is with a large grocery establishment.

The meetings will continue all the week and Prof. Norton will remain until Sunday. Rev. Mr. Van Fossen will also be here the rest of the week. Quite a number of new members have been received into the church as a result of these meetings.

DISCUSSION ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senator Teller Feels Insulted—House Begins Consideration of Naval Appropriation — Amendments to Indian Appropriation Disagreed to.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate yesterday agreed to the financial report on the army appropriation bill. Discussion of the statehood bill was resumed and Mr. Depew continued his remarks in opposition to it. He yielded to Mr. Proctor, who presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill which was agreed to, and then resumed his remarks.

After Mr. Depew had proceeded for some time Mr. Teller took exception to some of his remarks regarding the unequal representation in the senate. Advancing to the center aisle and speaking with great fervor, Mr. Teller said it was a small thing to talk about changing the form under which this government had grown so great and so strong.

"I have listened to a good deal of nonsense," said he, "I have listened to a good deal I consider beneath the dignity of the senate, but I cannot listen to Mr. Depew's remarks without saying here, as a senator and as a citizen of the United States, I feel insulted and I think the American people will feel this insult from the senator from New York."

Replying, Mr. Depew said he regretted Mr. Teller felt insulted, but "when you add to the minority representation in this senate," said he, "and take it farther away from the people you are calling attention to a condition where you cannot tell what the people may do in the discussions of the future."

Mr. Depew had not concluded when at 4:05 p. m. the senate adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1903.

The city Republican central committee has taken a step that all good citizens will commend most heartily. There is an unusually spirited municipal campaign in progress and the temptation to practice fraud at the primaries is greater than usual. We believe that elections, whether primary or general, are as honestly conducted in East Liverpool as anywhere. But it is best always to be on the safe side. The Republican party is too great to have any suspicion or scandal attaching to its name. The action of the city committee in offering a reward for the detection and punishment of any case of repeating or illegal voting is an emphatic notice that the party in this city stands for honesty in elections and will do everything in its power to secure it. The people will applaud and back this declaration. Honest elections are a prime essential to honest government, and nothing short of both has ever satisfied this city or ever will.

It isn't going to be as hard as usual to get out the Republican vote in East Liverpool next Saturday. The candidates are so numerous and each has so many friends that the political awakening has been pretty general. That is the sort of campaign that is welcome and refreshing. But when a citizen has voted at the primaries he must not think his whole duty done. There remains election day and he should keep his interest alive until that is past.

A Chicago inventor claims to have discovered a process of purifying river water so as to make it absolutely free from germs. A company with $2,500,000 capital has been formed to exploit the invention. If the company proposes to tackle the water supply of Ohio river towns we judge that they will need all the money.

COLONEL TAYLOR

Would Be an Ideal Member of the Board of Public Service.

Under the provisions of the new code almost absolute control of the financial affairs of the city is vested in the board of public service. It should therefore be composed of the best and foremost business men of the city, men who by experience have convinced the people that they are fitted in every way to take charge of this branch of the government of the city. It is a vital question with the taxpayers and they should be careful and elect the very best men obtainable for the place.

This year the people have a chance to put in office a man who is the head of one of the largest corporations in the city, and one of the largest of its kind in the world. A man who today stands without a peer in the pottery and business world. These are the kind of men who should be placed in charge of the financial affairs of the city in order that its business may be conducted along economical lines and in a few years have the city debt reduced which will mean a material reduction in taxes. Therefore, the voters should rally to the support of John N. Taylor, as he is one of the best men that can be placed on the ticket. 41h

NO PROMISE MADE

Thomas V. Thompson Denies Report That He Apportioned Offices to Supporters.

To the Voters of East Liverpool:

A report has been circulated by some unscrupulous and unprincipled person or persons that I have made promises to certain parties to appoint them to the offices which will be under my jurisdiction, and appointed by me in the event I am nominated for the office of mayor. I desire to brand the reports as a falsehood and take this means of notifying my friends that I am in the race on my merits alone and have made no promises to any one in return for their support, and defy the unprincipled and unscrupulous person or persons who started the report to prove it. I am in the race to win in a clean campaign and will continue to conduct my affairs along these lines throughout.

Thanking my hundreds of friends for the support in the past and present and asking a continuance of the same in the future, I am,

Most respectfully,

THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

masse and filled the council chamber to its entire capacity, showing by their presence that they were entirely in sympathy with the Cameron Pottery company and very much against the parties who brought the protest before council that the former franchise should be revoked.

"T. J. Parsons, prosecuting attorney for Marshall county, represented the interests of the Cameron Pottery company at this meeting, and in a very able manner presented the case and the rights of the pottery company to proceed on its electric light plant under the franchise formerly granted by the old council. Mr. Parsons' address was received by cheers and applause by the people of Cameron, who were at the meeting, and so emphatically demonstrated their sympathy for the pottery company that the council could not help but grant the demands of the citizens and the Cameron Pottery company, if at any time they had shown a disposition not to do so.

"The council most emphatically rejected the protest presented by Mr. Enshelmer, and on a motion to vote if council would abide by the contract made by the old council with the Cameron Pottery company, the move being seconded, the matter was voted on and decided for the Cameron Pottery company.

"The progress of the Cameron Pottery company, so far, has been very satisfactory. It is still working on the foundation of the building and pushing the work along very rapidly. The building for the mouldmaker will soon be erected, at which time the mouldmaker will take possession, and it will only be a short time until the other parts of the factory are completed. Mr. Stricklin, the contractor for this plant, received many assurances of the entire sympathy of the citizens of Cameron that he should be subjected to any such interference, and they showed their good will by the fact of all business of Cameron being suspended for the day, and the business men and the citizens took part by bringing their influence to bear on this council, that its action should be entirely in accord with the old council. The results of last night's meeting showed that their efforts were not in vain. However, now that everything is satisfactorily settled, the Cameron Pottery company has immediately started to work to the best of its power and erect them at the locations already confirmed by the council, and everything is progressing most favorably."

The pottery company will stand behind the town for any damage by reason of the franchise, and should the franchise be declared illegal the council agrees to grant a new one verbal.

But when a citizen has voted at the primaries he must not think his whole duty done. There remains election day and he should keep his interest alive until that is past.

A Chicago inventor claims to have discovered a process of purifying river water so as to make it absolutely free from germs. A company with $2,500,000 capital has been formed to exploit the invention. If the company proposes to tackle the water supply of Ohio river towns we judge that they will need all the money.

COLONEL TAYLOR

Would Be an Ideal Member of the Board of Public Service.

Under the provisions of the new code almost absolute control of the financial affairs of the city is vested in the board of public service. It should therefore be composed of the best and foremost business men of the city; men who by experience have convinced the people that they are fitted in every way to take charge of this branch of the government of the city. It is a vital question with the taxpayers and they should be careful and select the very best men obtainable for the place.

This year the people have a chance to put in office a man who is the head of one of the largest corporations in the city, and one of the largest of its kind in the world. A man who today stands without a peer in the pottery and business world. These are the kind of men who should be placed in charge of the financial affairs of the city in order that its business may be conducted along economical lines and in a few years have the city debt reduced which will mean a material reduction in taxes. Therefore, the voters should rally to the support of John N. Taylor, as he is one of the best men that can be placed on the ticket. 41-h

Thomas V. Thompson Denies Report That He Apportioned Offices to Supporters.

To the Voters of East Liverpool:

A report has been circulated by some unscrupulous and unprincipled person or persons that I have made promises to certain parties to appoint them to the offices which will be under my jurisdiction, and appointed by me in the event I am nominated for the office of mayor. I desire to brand the reports as a falsehood and take this means of notifying my friends that I am in the race on my merits alone and have made no promises to any one in return for their support, and defy the unprincipled and unscrupulous person or persons who started the report to prove it. I am in the race to win in a clean campaign and will continue to conduct my affairs along these lines throughout.

Thanking my hundreds of friends for the support in the past and present and asking a continuance of the same in the future, I am,

Most respectfully,

THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

masse and filled the council chamber to its entire capacity, showing by their presence that they were entirely in sympathy with the Cameron Pottery company and very much against the parties who brought the protest before council that the former franchise should be revoked.

"T. J. Parsons, prosecuting attorney for Marshall county, represented the interests of the Cameron Pottery company at this meeting, and in a very able manner presented the case and the rights of the pottery company to proceed on its electric light plant under the franchise formerly granted by the old council. Mr. Parsons' address was received by cheers and applause by the people of Cameron, who were at the meeting, and so emphatically demonstrated their sympathy for the pottery company that the council could not help but grant the demands of the citizens and the Cameron Pottery company, if at any time they had shown a disposition not to do so.

"The council most emphatically rejected the protest presented by Mr. Enshelmer, and on a motion to vote if council would abide by the contract made by the old council with the Cameron Pottery company, the move being seconded, the matter was voted on and decided for the Cameron Pottery company.

"The progress of the Cameron Pottery company, so far, has been very satisfactory. It is still working on the foundation of the building and pushing the work along very rapidly. The building for the mouldmaker will soon be erected, at which time the mouldmaker will take possession, and it will only be a short time until the other parts of the factory are completed. Mr. Stricklin, the contractor for this plant, received many assurances of the entire sympathy of the citizens of Cameron that he should be subject to any such interference, and they showed their good will by the fact of all business of Cameron being suspended for the day, and the business men and the citizens took part by bringing their influence to bear on this council, that its action should be entirely in accord with the old council. The results of last night's meeting showed that their efforts were not in vain. However, now that everything is satisfactorily settled, the Cameron Pottery company is ready to start to work to get ready for pot and erect them at the locations already confirmed by the council, and everything is progressing most favorably."

The pottery company will stand behind the town for any damage by reason of the franchise, and should the franchise be declared illegal the council agrees to grant a new one verbally.

"RESURRECTION" DRAMATIZED.

First American Presentation of Count Leo Tolstoy's Work—A Veritable Horror of Realism.

New York, Feb. 18.—Count Leo Tolstoy's "Resurrection," dramatized by Henry Battelle, had its first presentation in America at the Victoria Theater last evening, as it did also in London. The translation into English is by Michael Morton and the performance was by a company headed by Blanche Walsh.

The production here carried with it all the details that have made the play a sensation of Paris, where it is now running. In particular the scene in the women's prison is a veritable horror of realism. The play deals with the dark side of life in a way that is not so familiar to American audiences as to Paris theatergoers. It tells of a young nobleman who is responsible for the first downfall of a young woman who thereafter descends the human scale until she becomes one of the most degraded of creatures. Brought to trial for a misdeed, the woman comes into the presence of her betrayer as one of the jurors. The latter, realizing the ruin he has wrought, determines to turn all his efforts toward the resurrection of the good that has seemingly died in the woman. In the end he succeeds and the object of his endeavor becomes once more a woman of correct life and high purpose.

The leading parts were played by Blanche Walsh and Joseph Haworth, who gave exceedingly strong portrayals of characters full of virility and color.

Disastrous Hotel Fire.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 18.—The St. Clair Hotel, one of the largest hostilities of this city, was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. A man named Worthy, employed at the hotel as a yardman, is missing and is believed to have been burned to death. Milton Campbell, a fireman, was fatally crushed under falling walls. All the hotel guests made their escape, many of them rushing out in their night clothes when they awoke to find the house filled with a dense smoke. Ed Dutton and two other firemen were slightly injured by being caught under the same wall that fell on Campbell. The fire started shortly after midnight in a bakery near the hotel and burned fiercely for three hours before the firemen made any headway against it. Several small stores were destroyed, and the loss is estimated at $100,000.

Morning Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Quick work by firemen saved the lives of a number of persons who lived in the five-story brick building at 1 and 3 North Clark street early this morning when a fire broke out on the third floor of the structure. Clayton Bush, proprietor of a beer and concert hall on the first floor, and his wife and children were carried from the burning building and cared for by the police. Other persons living in the building were able to leave and still others were overcome by smoke and carried out by the firemen and policemen. Several printing firms occupying the upper floors lost heavily. The loss is about $75,000.

Fire on Steamship.

New York, Feb. 18.—Three alarms were sounded last night for a fire aboard the steamship Rio Grande of the Mallory line, docked in Burling slip. The fire started in the forward cabin of the ship, which had on board about 100 tons of general merchandise, and was to leave on Friday for Galveston. Capt. E. D. Johnstone and eight of the crew, who were asleep on board, gained the deck and found that they were surrounded with flames and their only means of escape being by sliding down the bow ladders to the river. The fire was confined to the cabin, however, and the damage was not large.

SOUTH SIDE

NO DECISION AS YET

Question of County Paying for Part of First Street Bridge Under Consideration.

The report published last evening by a local paper to the effect that the county court had decided to grant the request of the Chester council for half of the cost of the proposed new bridge at First street is a trifle premature. Solicitor Ingram appeared before the court Monday, but that body did not make a decision in the matter. It decided to meet the Chester council Saturday morning and then the question would be properly gone over. As Grant district pays about half of the taxes of the county, taxpayers feel that they are entitled to some of the improvements.

New Cumberland has several bridges built at the expense of the county. The town has not borne any part of the expense of any of these bridges. Since that much has been done for New Cumberland, it is argued that the county court ought to build one bridge at Chester. However, the county will not be asked to pay the entire cost of the bridge. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has agreed to bear half of the expense, and its offer will doubtless be accepted. The court will give a decision after consulting with the members of the council.

Tin Mill Sift Delayed.

It seems that it is impossible to tell how soon the tin mill at Chester will resume operations. The engine has been thoroughly renovated and yet it does not work smoothly. The company secured the services of the company who installed the engine, and every part of it was gone over in detail. However, when the engine is started it jars the entire building and refuses to do the work expected of it. It is quite likely that work will not be resumed till the first of the coming week.

Catholics Buy More Property.

The Catholics have purchased another lot in Chester at Fourth street and Indiana avenue. This makes their fourth lot. They propose to push the work of building at once. The contract for the building of the priest's house will be let this week. The balance of the buildings will be started later. The entire expenses of the Catholic fair have been paid and a balance of $1,785.85 has been left to the credit of the church.

Well Proved a Duster.

The well drilled in the latter part of the week on the Kessler farm, near Chester, proved to be a duster. The company which drilled the well had hopes of striking oil in paying quantities and the result of this well may prevent any more wells being drilled in that immediate vicinity. Operations may be suspended till better weather prevails at any rate.

No Coal for the Schools.

The schools of Chester will have to be closed this evening on account of lack of fuel. It was not discovered that the coal supply was so low till it was almost impossible to have more hauled. At the present time it will be impossible to secure any coal and the school will probably be closed for several days.

CHESTER NOTES.

N. B. Rowley was a business visitor in Pittsburgh last evening.
John Cunningham has moved into the dwelling on the corner of Carolina avenue and Second street.
Miss Anna Moore, of the Chester grocery, has been unable to be at her place at the store for several days on account of sickness.
The condition of Miss Anna Stewart, of Fairview, who is in a hospital at Pittsburgh suffering with smallpox is reported to be serious.

The case of A. F. Rosenberger against A. Severs & Co., came up before Justice W. C. Johnston this morning. The claim was for $19.75 said to be due for labor at Kittanning. The case was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

"RESURRECTION" DRAMATIZED.

First American Presentation of Count Leo Tolstoi's Work—A Veritable Horror of Realism.

New York, Feb. 15.—Count Leo Tolstoi's "Resurrection," dramatized by Henry Battelle, had its first presentation in America at the Victoria Theater last evening, as it did also in London. The translation into English is by Michael Morton and the performance was by a company headed by Blanche Walsh.

The production here carried with it all the details that have made the play a sensation of Paris, where it is now running. In particular the scene in the women's prison is a veritable horror of realism. The play deals with the dark side of life in a way that is not so familiar to American audiences as to Paris theatergoers. It tells of a young nobleman who is responsible for the first downfall of a young woman who thereafter descends the human scale until she becomes one of the most degraded of creatures. Brought to trial for a misdeed, the woman comes into the presence of her betrayer as one of the jurors. The latter, realizing the ruin he has wrought, determines to turn all his efforts toward the resurrection of the good that has seemingly died in the woman. In the end he succeeds and the object of his endeavor becomes once more a woman of correct life and high purpose.

The leading parts were played by Blanche Walsh and Joseph Haworth, who gave exceedingly strong portrayals of characters full of virility and color.

Disastrous Hotel Fire.

Port Huron, Mich., Feb. 15.—The St. Clair Hotel, one of the largest hostels of this city, was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. A man named Worth, employed at the hotel as a yardman, is missing and is believed to have been burned to death. Milton Campbell, a fireman, was fatally crushed under falling walls. All the hotel guests made their escape, many of them rushing out in their night clothes when they awoke to find the hotel filled with a dense smoke. Ed Dutton and two other firemen were slightly injured by being caught under the same wall that fell on Campbell. The fire started shortly after midnight in a bakery near the hotel and burned fiercely for three hours before the firemen made any headway against it. Several small stores were destroyed, and the loss is estimated at $100,000.

Morning Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Quick work by firemen saved the lives of a number of persons who lived in the five-story brick building at 1 and 3 North Clark street early this morning when a fire broke out on the third floor of the structure. Clayton Bush, proprietor of a beer and concert hall on the first floor, and his wife and children were carried from the burning building and cared for by the police. Other persons living in the building were able to leave and still others were overcome by smoke and carried out by the firemen and policemen. Several printing firms occupying the upper floors lost heavily. The loss is about $75,000.

Fire on Steamship.

New York, Feb. 15.—Three alarms were sounded last night for a fire aboard the steamship Rio Grande of the Mallory Line, docked in Burling slip. The fire started in the forward cabin of the ship, which had on board about 100 tons of general merchandise and was to leave on Friday for Galveston. Capt. E. D. Johnstone and eight of the crew, who were asleep on board, gained the deck and found that they were surrounded by flames and their only means of escape being by sliding down the bow hawsers to the river. The fire was confined to the cabin, however, and the damage was not large.

NO DECISION AS YET

Question of County Paying for Part of First Street Bridge Under Consideration.

The report published last evening by a local paper to the effect that the county court had decided to grant the request of the Chester council for half of the cost of the proposed new bridge at First street is a trifle premature. Solicitor Ingram appeared before the court Monday, but that body did not make a decision in the matter. It decided to meet the Chester council Saturday morning and then the question would be properly gone over. As Grant district pays about half of the taxes of the county, taxpayers feel that they are entitled to some of the improvements.

New Cumberland has several bridges built at the expense of the county. The town has not borne any part of the expense of any of these bridges. Since that much has been done for New Cumberland, it is argued that the county court ought to build one bridge at Chester. However, the county will not be asked to pay the entire cost of the bridge. The Panhandle Railroad company has agreed to bear half of the expense, and its offer will doubtless be accepted. The court will give a decision after consulting with the members of the council.

Tin Mill Surt Delayed.

It seems that it is impossible to tell how soon the tin mill at Chester will resume operations. The engine has been thoroughly renovated and yet it does not work smoothly. The company secured the services of the company who installed the engine, and every part of it was gone over in detail. However, when the engine is started it jars the entire building and refuses to do the work expected of it. It is quite likely that work will not be resumed till the first of the coming week.

Catholics Buy More Property.

The Catholics have purchased another lot in Chester at Fourth street and Indiana avenue. This makes their fourth lot. They propose to push the work of building at once. The contract for the building of the priest's house will be let this week. The balance of the buildings will be started later. The entire expenses of the Catholic fair have been paid and a balance of $1,785.85 has been left to the credit of the church.

Well Proved a Duster.

The well drilled in the latter part of the week on the Kessler farm, near Chester, proved to be a duster. The company which drilled the well had hopes of striking oil in paying quantities and the result of this well may prevent any more wells being drilled in that immediate vicinity. Operations may be suspended till better weather prevails at any rate.

No Coal for the Schools.

The schools of Chester will have to be closed this evening on account of lack of fuel. It was not discovered that the coal supply was so low till it was almost impossible to have more hauled. At the present time it will be impossible to secure any coal and the school will probably be closed for several days.

CHESTER NOTES.

N. B. Rowley was a business visitor in Pittsburg last evening. John Cunningham has moved into the dwelling on the corner of Carolina avenue and Second street.

Miss Anna Moore, of the Chester grocery, has been unable to be at her place at the store for several days on account of sickness.

The condition of Miss Anna Stewart, of Fairview, who is in a hospital at Pittsburg suffering with smallpox, is reported to be serious.

The case of A. F. Rosenberger against A. Severs & Co., came up before Justice W. C. Johnston this morning. The claim was for $19.75 said to be due for labor at Kittinging. The case was dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 8.—The legislature has adopted a resolution authorizing the government to pay $12,500 annually toward a subsidy for establishing a new fast direct steamship service between Canada and Jamaica. Gallipolis, O., Feb. 15.—The Ohio river continues to rise rapidly and has reached a stage of 40 feet during the last 24 hours. The Kanawha river, which empties into the Ohio just above here, is already out of its banks at several points. Only a continuance of the extreme cold will prevent a flood.

However, when the engine is started it jars the entire building and refuses to do the work expected of it. It is quite likely that work will not be resumed till the first of the coming week.

Catholics Buy More Property.

The Catholics have purchased another lot in Chester at Fourth street and Indiana avenue. This makes their fourth lot. They propose to push the work of building at once. The contract for the building of the priest's house will be let this week. The balance of the buildings will be started later. The entire expenses of the Catholic fair have been paid and a balance of $1,785.85 has been left to the credit of the church.

Well Proved a Duster.

The well drilled in the latter part of the week on the Kessler farm, near Chester, proved to be a duster. The company which drilled the well had hopes of striking oil in paying quantities and the result of this well may prevent any more wells being drilled in that immediate vicinity. Operations may be suspended till better weather prevails at any rate.

No Coal for the Schools.

The schools of Chester will have to be closed this evening on account of lack of fuel. It was not discovered that the coal supply was so low till it was almost impossible to have more hauled. At the present time it will be impossible to secure any coal and the school will probably be closed for several days.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council, Wilkes-barre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkes-barre city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. A friend had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to Col. Harvey and he is today a well man, hale and hearty. He writes straight to the point:

DR. DAVID KENNEDY,
Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

WM. J. HARVEY.
Rheumatism is but another name for uric acid poisoning, which is cured primarily by diseased kidneys. Cure your kidneys and the rheumatism disappears. For all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as sicknesses peculiar to women, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is unquestionably the greatest medicine known to the medical profession.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose.

MISS ROSE OWENS, No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

AGREEMENT WITH VENEZUELA.

All Claims of Citizens to Be Examined and Decided by Commission in Caracas—Awards to Be Payable in U. S. Gold or Its Equivalent.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Secretary Hay, for the United States, and Mr. Bowen, for Venezuela, yesterday signed a protocol providing for the adjustment of United States claims against Venezuela by a commission to meet at Caracas. The protocol is expected to serve as a model for similar instruments to be arranged with the other claimant powers. The text of the protocol, in part, is as follows:

Protocol of an agreement between the Secretary of State of the United States of America and the plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela for submission to arbitration of all unsettled claims of citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela.

The United States of America and the republic of Venezuela, through their representatives, John Hay, secretary of state of the United States of America, and Herbert B. Bowen, the plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela, have agreed upon and signed the following protocol:

The Protocol.
Article I. All claims owned by citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela which have not been settled by diplomatic agreement or arbitration between the two governments, and which shall have been presented to the commission hereinafter named by the department of state of the United States or its legation at Caracas, shall be examined and decided by a mixed commission which shall sit at Caracas and which shall consist of two members, one of whom is to be appointed by the president of the United States and the other by the president of Venezuela. The commission shall meet in the city of Caracas on the first day of June, 1903. The umpire shall preside over their deliberations and shall be competent to decide any question on which the commissioners disagree. Before assuming the functions of their office the commissioners and the umpire shall take solemn oath carefully to examine and impartially decide, according to justice and the provisions of this convention, all claims submitted to them, and such oaths shall be entered on the record of their proceedings. The decisions of the commission, and in the event of their disagreement those of the umpire shall be final and conclusive. They shall be in writing. Awards shall be made payable in United States gold or its equivalent in silver.

Article II. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer.

Article III. The umpire shall keep accurate record of their proceedings and for that purpose each commissioner shall appoint a secretary versed in the language of both countries. Except as herein stipulated all questions of procedure shall be left to the determination of the commission, or in case of their disagreement to the umpire.

Article IV. Reasonable compensation to the commissioners and to the umpire for their services and expenses and the other expenses of said arbitration are to be paid in equal moieties by the contracting parties.

Article V. In order to pay the total amount of the claims to be adjudicated and other claims of citizens or subjects of other nations, the government of Venezuela shall set apart for this purpose and alienate to no other purpose, beginning with the month of March, 1903, 30 per cent in monthly payments of the customs revenues of La Guaira and Puerto Cabello. In case of the failure to carry out the above agreement, the government of Venezuela shall be placed in charge of the customs of the two ports and shall administer them until the liabilities of the Venezuelan government, in respect of the above claims, shall have been discharged.

Article VI. All existing and unsettled awards in the United States shall be promptly paid according to the terms of the respective awards. (Signed)

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.
Rumors of Gold Exports Develop. Active Selling Movement—Market Closed Heavy.

New York, Feb. 18.—The movement of prices of stocks yesterday was confused and irregular and accurately reflected in that way the state of mind of those who were trading. This element was pretty closely restricted to the room traders. Business from commission houses was at a low level from any source.

The industrial stocks had a rather more prominent place in the trading, but their price movement was very spotty. The rather active selling movement which developed midway of the session was prompted by the well-defined rumors that exports of gold were being negotiated for Thursday's steamer. No official acknowledgment of the truth of these rumors could be secured, but the refusal to disclaim them by one or two prominent international banking houses gave color to the report. Sterling exchange advanced several points but reacted a fraction of a cent in Paris. The highest rates for time money here operate as an obstacle to an outflow of gold.

Damage to property by the great storm was of some influence in prompting the light selling. The market closed heavy at about the lowest. Money on call steady at 2 1/2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 per cent.

There was heavy selling of St. Louis and San Francisco funding bonds. The market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,250,000.

U. S. old cons declined 3/4 per cent on the last call.

Killed Wife With an Axe.
Eastman, Ga., Feb. 18.—Frank Cook, who is confined in the county jail, has confessed to the murder of his wife near Hazlehurst, Ga., Saturday last. Cook says he came up behind his wife and brained her with an axe. They had been married only six months. The motive for the crime is said to have been Cook's infatuation for another woman.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council, Wilkesbarre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkesbarre's city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. A friend had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to Col. Harvey and he is to-day a well man, hale and hearty. He writes straight to the point:

DR. DAVID KENNEDY,
Dear Sir—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Wm. J. HARVEY.
Rheumatism is but another name for uric acid poisoning which is caused primarily by diseased kidneys. Cure your kidneys and the rheumatism disappears. For all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as sicknesses peculiar to women, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is unquestionably the greatest medicine known to the medical profession.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

MISS ROSE OWENS,

No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only need taking three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

ACREEMENT WITH VENEZUELA.

All Claims of Citizens to Be Examined and Decided by Commission in Caracas—Awards to Be Payable in U. S. Gold or Its Equivalent.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Secretary Hay, for the United States, and Mr. Bowen, for Venezuela, yesterday signed a protocol providing for the adjustment of United States claims against Venezuela by a commission to meet at Caracas. The protocol is expected to serve as a model for similar instruments to be arranged with the other claimant powers. The text of the protocol, in part, is as follows:

Protocol of an agreement between the Secretary of State of the United States of America and the plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela for submission to arbitration of all unsettled claims of citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela.

The United States of America and the republic of Venezuela, through their representatives, John Hay, secretary of state of the United States of America, and Herbert B. Bowen, plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela, have agreed upon and signed the following protocol:

Article I. All claims owned by citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela which have not been settled by diplomatic agreement or arbitration between the two governments, and which shall have been presented to the commission hereinafter named by the department of state of the United States or its legation at Caracas, shall be examined and decided by a mixed commission which shall sit at Caracas and which shall consist of two members, one of whom is to be appointed by the president of the United States and the other by the president of Venezuela. It is agreed that an umpire may be named by the Queen of Netherlands. The commissioners and the umpire shall meet in the city of Caracas on the first day of June, 1903. The umpire shall preside over their deliberations and shall be competent to decide any question on which the commissioners disagree. Before assuming the functions of their offices the commissioners and the umpire shall take solemn oath carefully to examine and impartially decide, according to justice and the provisions of this convention, all claims submitted to them, and such oaths shall be entered on the record of their proceedings. The decisions of the commission, and in the event of their disagreement those of the umpire shall be final and conclusive. They shall be in writing. Awards shall be made payable in United States gold or its equivalent in silver.

Article II. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer. The commission shall be composed of three members, one of whom is to be appointed by the president of the United States and the other by the president of Venezuela. It is agreed that an umpire may be named by the Queen of Netherlands. The commissioners and the umpire shall meet in the city of Caracas on the first day of June, 1903. The umpire shall preside over their deliberations and shall be competent to decide any question on which the commissioners disagree. Before assuming the functions of their offices the commissioners and the umpire shall take solemn oath carefully to examine and impartially decide, according to justice and the provisions of this convention, all claims submitted to them, and such oaths shall be entered on the record of their proceedings. The decisions of the commission, and in the event of their disagreement those of the umpire shall be final and conclusive. They shall be in writing. Awards shall be made payable in United States gold or its equivalent in silver.

Article III. The commissioners and the umpire shall keep an accurate record of their proceedings and for that purpose each commissioner shall appoint a secretary versed in the language of both countries. Except as herein stipulated all questions of procedure shall be left to the determination of the commission, or in case of their disagreement to the umpire.

Article IV. Reasonable compensation to the commissioners and to the umpire for their services and expenses and the other expenses of said arbitration are to be paid in equal moieties by the contracting parties.

Article V. In order to pay the total amount of the claims to be adjudicated and other claims of citizens or subjects or other nationals, the government of Venezuela shall set apart for this purpose and alienate to no other purpose, beginning with the month of March, 1903, 30 per cent in monthly payments of the customs revenues of La Guaira and Puerto Cabello. In case of the failure to carry out the above agreement, the government of Venezuela shall be held responsible for the claims of citizens or subjects or other nationals, the government of Venezuela shall set apart for this purpose and alienate to no other purpose, beginning with the month of March, 1903, 30 per cent in monthly payments of the customs revenues of La Guaira and Puerto Cabello. In case of the failure to carry out the above agreement, the government of Venezuela shall be held responsible for the claims of citizens or subjects or other nationals, the government of Venezuela shall set apart for this purpose and alienate to no other purpose, beginning with the month of March, 1903, 30 per cent in monthly payments of the customs revenues of La Guaira and Puerto Cabello.

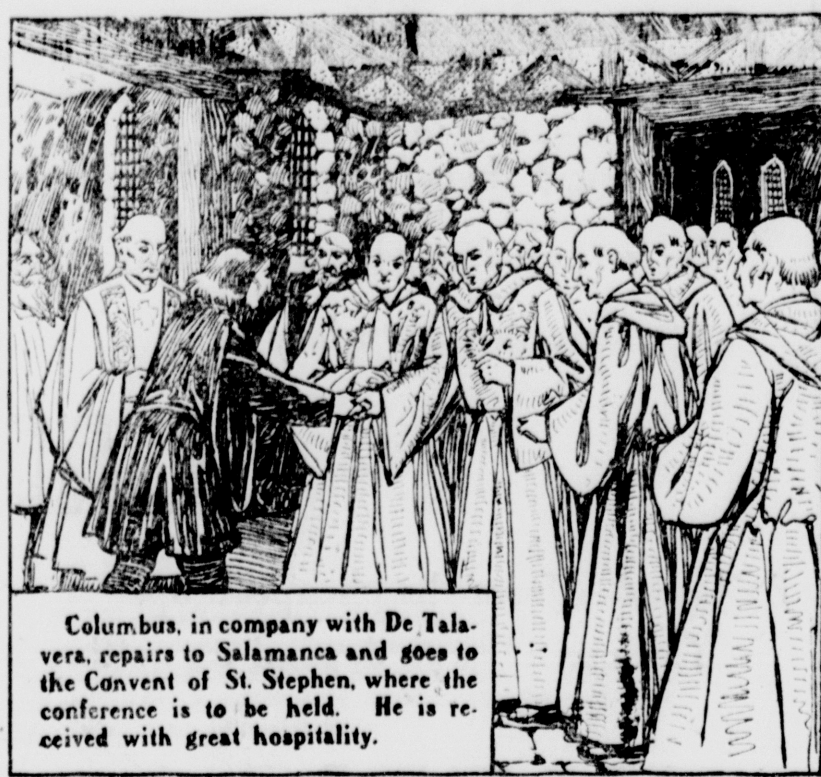

Article VI. All existing and unsettled awards in the United States shall be promptly paid according to the terms of the respective awards. (Signed) JOHN HAY, HERBERT B. BOWEN.

Rumors of Gold Exports Develops Active Selling Movement—Market Closed Heavy.
New York, Feb. 18.—The movement of prices of stocks yesterday was confused and irregular and accurately reflected in that way the state of mind of those who were trading. This element was pretty closely restricted to the room traders. Business from commission houses was at a low level from any source.

The industrial stocks had a rather more prominent place in the trading, but their price movement was very spotty. The rather active selling movement which developed midway of the session was prompted by the well-defined rumors that exports of gold were being negotiated for Thursday's steamer. No official acknowledgment of the truth of these rumors could be secured, but the refusal to disclaim them by one or two prominent international banking houses gave color to the report. Sterling exchange advanced several points but reacted a fraction of a cent in Paris. The highest rates for time money here operate as an obstacle to an outflow of gold.

Dallas Tex., Feb. 18.—The first loss of life from the recent blizzard was reported from El Paso yesterday. W. Garrison, an aged hack driver, and an old Indian fighter, was found frozen in the snow. Rivers are overflowing from the heavy rains and snow, and railroad traffic is crippled and telephone and telegraphic wires are down in many places.

soners shall be bound to examine and decide upon every claim within six months from the day of its first formal presentation and in case of their disagreement the umpire shall examine and decide within a corresponding period from the date of such disagreement.

Article III. The commissioners and the umpire shall keep an accurate record of their proceedings and for that purpose each commissioner shall appoint a secretary versed in the language of both countries. Except as herein stipulated all questions of procedure shall be left to the determination of the commission, or in case of their disagreement to the umpire.

Shenandoah, Pa., Feb. 18.—The heavy snowstorm was followed yesterday by zero weather and a fierce north wind, causing snow drifts which completely choked off all traffic on the electric railway and forced all the collieries in this vicinity to close down early in the day. The wind had abated somewhat last night.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 18.—A snowstorm and blizzard prevailed Monday night and part of yesterday, causing the stoppage of operations at all the collieries in this region. It will be several days before the roads can be cleared.

A Plain Statement of a Bad Condition And a Cure That Never Fails.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' Drug Store and they took hold finely—something nothing else ever did—the pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

How To Tell A Swindle.

If a man tells you he can make 25 per cent out of your money for you and don't tell you how, set it down as a swindle. If he offers you something for nothing, set it down as a swindle. If he tells you he can cure you of disease, and don't tell you how, set it down as a swindle. If you will exercise your own judgment, your own reason—just use a little common sense at all times, it is the safest guide. We tell you Life Plant cures Rheumatism, Eczema, Catarrh, Asthma, Scrofula and all blood diseases, and we tell you why. It does it because it purifies the blood, drives out the impurities and thus removes the cause of disease. There is no other way. Now that's common sense. The blood is the life. Keep the blood pure, full of life, and the whole system will be renewed with new energy. Read this. It tells what Life Plant will do. It's from your neighbor:

Mr. J. C. Lukens, of Tippecanoe, Ohio, says: "I have been greatly relieved of business, stomach and kidney trouble by the use of Life Plant. As a family medicine to keep the blood in order and tone up the system and prevent sickness, I think it stands at the head of the list."

Life Plant cures Life. An excellent tonic for the aged. It keeps the blood young, and insures a healthy and ripe old age. A whole month's treatment for $1.00. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back also is a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

VII.—The Divisions of Medicine

THE natural way to classify the sciences which go to make up the "art of healing" or "the practice of medicine" is in two general groups, the fundamental branches essential to any general or special practice and the specialties. Of the former we have anatomy, or the study of the structure of the body; physiology, the study of the functions; histology, or microscopic structure; pathology, or diseased structure; chem-

"Comforter of the afflicted, adviser of the widow, the orphan, the young man and young woman alike, reviving their confidence, shielding their weaknesses and lightening the penalty of their follies."—Istria; materia medica, the study of drugs; therapeutics, the use of drugs, and so on. The specialties are many, each named to indicate the part to which the study is applied.

As far back as 300 B. C. medicine had been divided into surgery, dietetics and rhizotomy (the use of drugs). Naturally anatomy was the ground-work of all medical work. The study of normal structure must be mastered before the abnormal can be understood.

The development of our present idea of anatomy was slow. Four hundred years before Christ, Aristotle began his study of normal structure, slowly at first, using only the lower animals for his investigations, for the human body was sacred and could not be used for scientific work. It was he who discovered nerves, and he was the first to announce that the vessels arose from the heart. Prior to this time veins and arteries were said to arise in the head. Among his valuable contributions to anatomy, however, he gave forth much which was erroneous. He asserted that the heart was connected with the ligaments of the body and controlled the joints and that the liver gave off vessels to the right arm; hence bleeding the right arm would cure diseases of the liver.

Not many years later Ptolemy Philadelphus dissected the human body, and Herophilus began experimental work on condemned criminals. From that day anatomy became important and began its progress to the dignity of an exact science.

In the meantime therapeutics and materia medica began to emerge from a condition of absolute darkness through the work of Theophrastus, who was an earnest student of botany, and then Erasistratus began logical administration of drugs, and Serapion introduced many of the remedies we use with benefit today. In his time Erasistratus taught a very logical therapy, although camel brains, rabbit heart, excrement of crocodile and turtle blood were greatly lauded by him for the cure of fits.

Surgery was not sleeping in these days. Praxagoras had already cut out the tonsils for sore throat and had bravely opened the abdomen to rectify misplaced intestines (3). Liver abscess was operated upon, and lithotomy (removal of stones from the bladder) was a well established specialty.

Ophthalmology (diseases of the eye) as a division of practice was established by Herophilus 200 years before Christ. He described the structure of the eye in detail and successfully removed cataract. To him is also due the honor of giving the first impetus in the direction of another great branch—physical diagnosis—by his attention to the changes in the pulse during health and disease, and he was the first teacher in obstetrics, the art of midwifery or childbirth.

Mithridates Eupator, a king of Pontus, devoted his life to toxicology (the study of poisons and antidotes). Fearing that death by deadly drugs would be his fate, he studied their action constantly and devised for each a specific antidote. Hyoscyanus, acornite and hellebore, now used in medical practice, were studied carefully by him.

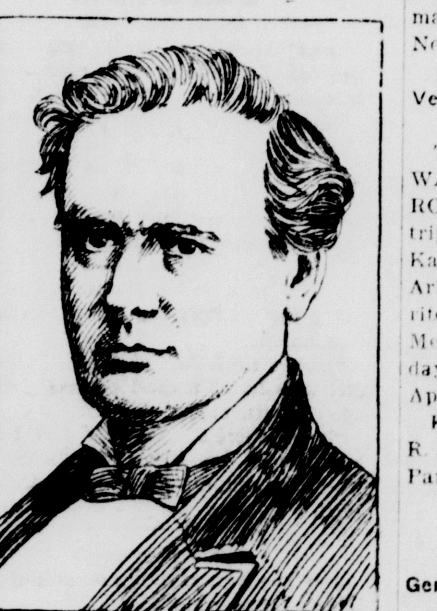

Asclepiades wrote extensively upon a crude hydrotherapy (cure by water), described the results of massage and gave the world the first writings upon laryngology (diseases of the throat) in his essay on the cure of suffocative sore throat by bronchotomy (opening the windpipe). This measure is today perfected in our modern measures of tracheotomy and laryngeal intubation, the two most important operations of the laryngologist (throat specialist).

Prevention of the disease known today as prophylaxis has always been of great importance, and Sextus Placius Papiensis began the teaching of this branch about the time of Christ. His first great teaching was that eating a newborn puppy would preserve a patient from colic for the rest of his life and his second that a rabbit's heart on the back of the neck would prevent malaria. Credo and absurd as this was it was the starting point of investigation in preventive medicine.

Gynecology (diseases of women) was not taken up as a specialty until A. D. 600, when Paulus Aegineta, "the man midwife," produced a textbook upon the subject. Today gynecology is one of the greatest and most extensive specialties.

So we see that the great divisions in medical practice had their origins among the ancients, and, if there were so many in those early days, what are they all today?

There are the alienist, or student of the disordered mind; the neurologist, who treats of nervous diseases; the ophthalmologist, who treats of the eye; the aurist, for diseases of the ear; the laryngologist, whose sphere is the throat; the dermatologist, who cures ailments of the skin; the plastic surgeon, who devises artificial organs for repair; the orthopedist, who cures the crippled and deformed; the bacteriologist, who studies disease germs; the abdominal surgeon; the rectal surgeon; the genito-urinary man; the pediatrician, who tends the diseases of children, and—where, pray, is the end? Each age divides the science into more specialties. Electricity gave us the electro-therapist; the Roentgen ray machine gave a new vocation. Chloroform and ether have produced the professional anesthetizer, and set the regular family physician goes his way, curing and helping and encouraging.

Dr. J. Marion Sims.

Division and specialties may come and go, but the family doctor and his patient have always been and will always be the backbone of the medical profession.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours. A sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. If it stays in your glass, it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Belts are now of great importance, and there are wide ones for the full, soft blouses of flannel or oriental silk and narrow ones excessively elongated in front to wear with the waists which have closely fitted backs and for the blouse coat, which is usually worn with a narrow waistband.

An up to date chemise is here shown. The fullness is held in as far down as the waist.

Alcock's POROUS PLASTERS

Are a universal remedy for Pains in the Back (so frequent in the case of women). They give instantaneous relief. Wherever there is a pain apply a Plaster.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

For pains in the region of the kidneys, or for a Weak Back, the plaster should be applied as shown above. Wherever there is pain apply Alcock's Plaster.

For Rheumatism or Pains in shoulders, Elbows or wrists, or for Sprains, stiffness, etc., and for Aching Feet, cut plaster and shape required and apply to part affected as shown above.

For Sore Throat, Coughs, Bronchitis, for Weak Lungs and for general and sensitive parts of the abdomen, apply as indicated.

If you want the best results, the quickest and cleanest cure, use Alcock's Plasters. They are superior to belladonna, which is the extract of deadly nightshade, a violent poison, and never should be used except by direction of a physician. Alcock's Plasters contain no poisons. They cure by absorption. Absolutely curative, perfectly harmless.

Read letter from Prof. Henry A. Mott, the eminent chemist. "My investigation of Alcock's Porous Plaster shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not found in any other plaster, and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster."

A GOOD BUSINESS MAN

Excellent Reasons Why Joseph Barlow Should Be Councilman-at-Large.

There is no more popular candidate for any office in the list than Uncle Joe Barlow, who would like to be councilman-at-large. He is a good business man, and never makes a move without considering well and carefully. His aim has been to advocate and vote for those measures which would be a benefit to the whole people, and no man can say that he ever voted for a proposition through or by reason of a selfish motive. DAVY CROXALL

A Popular and Prominent Candidate for the Office of Councilman-at-Large.

E. N. Croxall, who is among the leading candidates for councilman-at-large, at the coming primary, acquired the nickname of "Davy" so long ago that he scarcely remembers when he was not more accustomed to be called by that name than any other. There may be those who would be confused in figuring out who is meant by E. N. Croxall, and for their benefit it is well to say now that the candidate for councilman-at-large is the very same "Davy." He is a presser by trade and has worked at the bench all his life. For several terms he has held the responsible position of president of local union No. 4, one of the oldest and most important of all the Brotherhood organizations. Mr. Croxall hails from the Fourth ward where he is well known and highly respected. This ward is one of the largest in the city, and it is the opinion of those residing there that it should be represented by an able man.

The Fourth ward has more suburban territory than any other in the city, and will therefore necessitate more consideration at the hands of council in the matter of ordinances and acceptance of plots. The Fourth has a righteous claim upon the position, and the voters will surely take this view of the matter. 41-h

Mrs. Laura F. Morris.

Mrs. Laura F. Morris, aged 77 years died Monday night at West Penn hospital, Pittsburg, from a complication of dropsy and the infirmities of age. She was taken to the hospital last week by her son Charles. The body was brought to this city last evening and the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Edwin Weary tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Morris was born in Clarion Pa. and came to this city when 15 years of age. She was a daughter of Ephraim Bennett and a sister of Edward and Almond Bennett, well known citizens of East Liverpool now deceased. She was married to William P. Morris in 1853 and three children were born to them—Laura and William G., both deceased, and Charles, of this city. William P. CROOK FURNITURE CO.

A New Firm With $50,000 Capital to Continue the Business of Frank Crook.

The Frank Crook company has been organized and was incorporated Feb. 12, 1903, with a capital stock of $50,000. Two of the incorporators of this company are Messrs. Frank Crook and J. V. Oliver. The new firm will continue the furniture, carpet and curtain business of Frank Crook.

The latter has been in business in this city for 20 years, and is well and favorably known to a large part of the East Liverpool public. The new member of the company, Mr. Oliver, has been employed with the Hard Furniture company for five years as manager of the carpet and drapery department. Prior to that he was with the Oliver McClintock company, of Pittsburgh. The latter firm is one of the largest wholesale and retail carpet and furniture houses in the country.

Mr. Oliver knows the furniture business as well as any man in the country. His years of experience have given him a keen insight as to the wishes of the public in general. His ability to cater to the desires of the public has led to his present success and he will take up the active business of the new firm with his well known enthusiasm and push. Every department will be restocked and the business of the firm extended to meet the demands of the public. CANDIDATE AT LARGE

The Friends of Henry E. Bullock Have Cause for His Advancement.

The candidacy for councilman-at-large is an important one. Henry E. Bullock, the popular and efficient editor of the East Liverpool Morning Tribune, is a candidate for this office and he can be voted for by any of his friends in any precinct of any ward in the city. Mr. Bullock has been a member of the city council for two years and has made an enviable record for himself in that his every action was calculated to work to the good and welfare of the people generally. He has held the position of chairman of the street committee and has performed his duties in such a satisfactory manner that no exceptions can be taken to any of them.

Some things may have been asked for that have not been done under Mr. Bullock's administration, but it is only because that action would redound to the detriment of the greater number of people that it was not done. If this a fault then Mr. Bullock is to be censured; if not then he should receive the support of all the fair minded voters of the city. His platform is now, as it has always been, the greatest good to the greatest number of people. He solicits your support at the primary election on Saturday. 41-h

CHARLES BERG

Is Amongst the Most Popular Candidates for Council.

Of the several candidates that have announced for the office of councilman from the Fourth ward there is none better qualified to fill the position than Charles H. Berg. For years he has been closely identified with the affairs of the city should be carefully guarded. he served in council he took an active part in every question of importance that arose.

As he is a very heavy taxpayer he naturally has the interest of the city at heart and like every other fair minded man believes that the financial affairs of the city should be carefully guarded. The voters of the Fourth ward can make no better selection and it is unquestionably to their interest to see that Charles H. Berg is placed on the ticket as the Republican nominee for the coming spring election. 41-h

The Periods of Growth.

Children born between September and February are, some authorities state, not as tall as those born in summer and spring months, and the growth of children is much more rapid from March till August. The extremes grow rapidly up to the sixteenth year; then there is a slow growth until the thirtieth year. The legs chiefly grow between the tenth and seventeenth years. Comparing the general results, it appears that there are six periods of growth. The first extends up to the sixth or eighth year and is one of very rapid growth; the second period, from eleven to fourteen years, growth is slow; the third period, from sixteen to seventeen; the fourth period shows a slow growth up to the age of thirty for height, up to fifty for chest girth; the fifth period is one of rest, the sixth a decrease in the body.

A Roman Cure For Consumption.

Celsus was a Roman physician who flourished in the third century. He was a follower of Hippocrates and wrote various books on medicine. One of his prescriptions is for consumption and, strange enough, it is quite in accord with modern methods in some respects. He says: "As soon as a man finds himself spitting and hacking on rising in the morning he should immediately take possession of a cow and go high up into the mountains and live on the fruit of that cow." Although he knew nothing of the cause of phthisis, he had observed that good living, out of door life, lots of sunshine and an abundance of milk and cream were absolutely essential as prerequisites for treatment.—Journal of Hygiene.

A Remarkable Shawl.

The empress of Russia was once presented with a shawl of a remarkable kind. It is contained in a box only a few inches square, in which it fits easily, yet when it is shaken out it is ten yards square. This notable gift was the work of some women weavers in Orenberg, southern Russia, by whom it was presented. The box containing it is of wood, with hinges, hoops and fastenings of beaten silver.

Didn't Need It.

A book canvasser went into a barber shop and asked the proprietor if he could sell him an encyclopedia. "What's that?" asked the barber. "It's a book that contains information on every subject in the world." There was a victim in the chair, and he put in feebly, "He doesn't need it!"

Fable of the Fox
And the Peasant

Once upon a time the Fox went to the Peasant and said:

"I know you have been down on me ever since one of your fowls turned up missing, but I have come to show you that I am not as black as painted. A Wolf has taken up his abode in the rocks in your lower field, and tonight he will make a raid on your sheepfold."

"Then I shall be on hand with my gun to pepper him," replied the Peasant.

"That will be well, but to make assurance doubly sure why not set traps as well? You must have several of them about."

"Yes, I have no less than six, and I will follow your advice. I am much obliged for your pointer, and any time I have a dead hen to throw out I will remember you."

The Fox went away, but from a hiding place he saw the Peasant lug out and set the traps spoken of and was careful to note where they were placed. An hour after dark he approached the henhouse with the design of selecting and carrying off the fattest pullet, but he had not yet found his way in when his foot was caught in the jaws of a trap, and the Peasant came out of his house at the same time.

"Alas, but is this your gratitude?" wailed the Fox as he realized that his end was near. "Didn't I take the pains to come to you and warn you that the Wolf would be after your lambs?"

"Yes, you did," replied the Peasant, "and you hadn't been gone an hour when the Wolf came and warned me that you would be after my fowls. I therefore decided to fish for Wolf and Fox at the same time."

WHIRLWIND STRIKES A STEAMER

Seventeen Lives Lost by Sinking of the Olive—The Captain and Five Others Saved.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 18.—A cyclone struck the passenger steamer Olive, which plies between Franklin, Va., and Edenton, N. C., at 9:30 o'clock Monday night and sent her to the bottom of the Chowan river. Seventeen people are known to have been drowned, and others who were rescued are in a serious condition.

The whirlwind when it struck the Olive caused her to go over on her beam's end, and when she righted it was only to sink on account of the water she had taken. A majority of the passengers and crew were below at the time and had no opportunity to reach the pilot house of the vessel. This point was the only portion left above water and in it standing waist deep from the time of the accident until 6 o'clock in the morning, Capt. George H. Withy and five others were saved. Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock the river steamer Pettit hove in sight and rescued the almost frozen survivors.

The Olive was a small singlescrew steamer, owned by J. A. Pretlow of Franklin, Va., and has been plying between North Carolina and Virginia for several years. She left Franklin last evening for Edenton and had almost reached her destination when the cyclone struck her.

Quack Lived High.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—Herr Nardenkoetter, whose name in large black type has been a feature for years in the German press in connection with nostrums, has been sentenced in conformity to three years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $900 after a trial which had been a fortnight's sensation. Nardenkoetter spent millions of marks in advertising, lived richly and contrived to defy the medical societies and public prosecutors for years, and now he has escaped punishment by going to England and forfeiting his bail. Nardenkoetter on one occasion, it was alleged during the trial, being in a great hurry to satisfy some of his patients, simply filled their bottles with soapy water from a wash bowl.

Edwin Weary tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Morris was born in Clarion Pa. and came to this city when 15 years of age. She was a daughter of Ephraim Bennett and a sister of Edward and Almond Bennett, well known citizens of East Liverpool, now deceased. She was married to William P. Morris in 1853 and three children were born to them—Laura and William G., both deceased, and Charles, of this city. William P. Morris was an uncle of Andrew Carnegie who made his home here with his uncle when a boy.

CROOK FURNITURE CO.

A New Firm With $50,000 Capital to Continue the Business of Frank Crook.

The Frank Crook company has been organized and was incorporated Feb. 12, 1903, with a capital stock of $50,000. Two of the incorporators of this company are Messrs. Frank Crook and J. V. Oliver. The new firm will continue the furniture, carpet and curtain business of Frank Crook.

The latter has been in business in this city for 20 years, and is well and favorably known to a large part of the East Liverpool public. The new member of the company, Mr. Oliver, has been employed with the Hard Furniture company for five years as manager of the carpet and drapery department. Prior to that he was with the Oliver McClintock company, of Pittsburgh. The latter firm is one of the largest wholesale and retail carpet and furniture houses in the country.

Mr. Oliver knows the furniture business as well as any man in the country. His years of experience have given him a keen insight as to the wishes of the public in general. His ability to cater to the desires of the public has led to his present success and he will take up the active business of the new firm with his well known enthusiasm and push. Every department will be restocked and the business of the firm extended to meet the demands of the public. Mr. Oliver's ability in his chosen business is well known and he has hundreds of friends who will permit no one else to look after any matters pertaining to furniture for them. CANDIDATE AT LARGE

The Friends of Henry E. Bullock Have Cause for His Advancement.

The candidacy for councilman-at-large is an important one. Henry E. Bullock, the popular and efficient city editor of the East Liverpool Morning Tribune, is a candidate for this office, and he can be voted for by any of his friends in any precinct of any ward in the city. Mr. Bullock has been a member of the city council for two years and has made an enviable record for himself in that his every action was calculated to work to the good and welfare of the people generally. He has held the position of chairman of the street committee and has performed his duties in such a satisfactory manner that no exceptions can be taken to any of them.

Some things may have been asked for that have not been done under Mr. Bullock's administration, but it is only because that action would redound to the detriment of the greater number of people that it was not done. If this a fault then Mr. Bullock is to be censured; if not then he should receive the support of all the fair minded voters of the city. His platform is now, as it has always been, the greatest good to the greatest number of people. He solicits your support at the primary election on Saturday. 41-h

Is Amongst the Most Popular Candidates for Council.

Of the several candidates that have announced for the office of councilman from the Fourth ward there is none better qualified to fill the position than Charles H. Berg. For years he has been closely identified with the affairs of the city should be carefully guarded, he served in council he took an active part in every question of importance that arose.

As he is a very heavy taxpayer he naturally has the interest of the city at heart and like every other fair minded man believes that the financial affairs of the city should be carefully guarded. The voters of the Fourth ward can make no better selection and it is unquestionably to their interest to see that Charles H. Berg is placed on the ticket as the Republican nominee for the coming spring election. 41-h

The Periods of Growth.

Children born between September and February are, some authorities state, not as tall as those born in summer and spring months, and the growth of children is much more rapid from March till August. The extremes grow rapidly up to the sixteenth year; then there is a slow growth until the thirtieth year. The legs chiefly grow between the tenth and seventeenth years. Comparing the general results, it appears that there are six periods of growth. The first extends up to the sixth or eighth year and is one of very rapid growth; the second period, from eleven to fourteen years, growth is slow; the third period, from sixteen to seventeen; the fourth period shows a slow growth up to the age of thirty for height, up to fifty for chest girth; the fifth period is one of rest, the sixth a decrease in the body.

A Roman Cure For Consumption.

Celsus was a Roman physician who flourished in the third century. He was a follower of Hippocrates and wrote various books on medicine. One of his prescriptions is for consumption and, strange enough, it is quite in accord with modern methods in some respects. He says: "As soon as a man finds himself spitting and hacking on rising in the morning he should immediately take possession of a cow and go high up into the mountains and live on the fruit of that cow." Although he knew nothing of the cause of phthisis, he had observed that good living, out of door life, lots of sunshine and an abundance of milk and cream were absolutely essential as prerequisites for treatment.—Journal of Hygiene.

A Remarkable Shawl.

The empress of Russia was once presented with a shawl of a remarkable kind. It is contained in a box only a few inches square, in which it fits easily, yet when it is shaken out it is ten yards square. This notable gift was the work of some women weavers in Orenburg, southern Russia, by whom it was presented. The box containing it is of wood, with hinges, hoops and fastenings of beaten silver.

Didn't Need It.

A book canvasser went into a barber shop and asked the proprietor if he could sell him an encyclopedia. "What's that?" asked the barber. "It's a book that contains information on every subject in the world." There was a victim in the chair, and he put in feebly, "He doesn't need it!"

Fable of the Fox And the Peasant

Once upon a time the Fox went to the Peasant and said:

"I know you have been down on me ever since one of your fowls turned up missing, but I have come to show you that I am not as black as painted. A Wolf has taken up his abode in the rocks in your lower field, and tonight he will make a raid on your sheepfold."

"Then I shall be on hand with my gun to pepper him," replied the Peasant.

"That will be well, but to make assurance doubly sure why not set traps as well? You must have several of them about."

"Yes, I have no less than six, and I will follow your advice. I am much obliged for your pointer, and any time I have a dead hen to throw out I will remember you."

The Fox went away, but from a hiding place he saw the Peasant lug out and set the traps spoken of and was careful to note where they were placed. An hour after dark he approached the henhouse with the design of selecting and carrying off the fattest pullet, but he had not yet found his way in when his foot was caught in the jaws of a trap, and the Peasant came out of his house at the same time.

"Alas, but is this your gratitude?" wailed the Fox as he realized that his end was near. "Didn't I take the pains to come to you and warn you that the Wolf would be after your lambs?"

"Yes, you did," replied the Peasant, "and you hadn't been gone an hour when the Wolf came and warned me that you would be after my fowls. I therefore decided to fish for Wolf and Fox at the same time."

WHIRLWIND STRIKES A STEAMER

Seventeen Lives Lost by Sinking of the Olive—The Captain and Five Others Saved.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 18.—A cyclone struck the passenger steamer Olive, which plies between Franklin, Va., and Edenton, N. C., at 9:30 o'clock Monday night and sent her to the bottom of the Chowan river. Seventeen people are known to have been drowned, and others who were rescued are in a serious condition.

The whirlwind when it struck the Olive caused her to go over on her beam's end, and when she righted it was only to sink on account of the water she had taken. A majority of the passengers and crew were below at the time and had no opportunity to reach the pilot house of the vessel. This point was the only portion left above water and in it, standing waist deep from the time of the accident until 6 o'clock in the morning, Capt. George H. Withy and five others were saved. Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock the river steamer Pettit hove in sight and rescued the almost frozen survivors.

The Olive was a small singlescrew steamer, owned by J. A. Pretlow of Franklin, Va., and has been plying between North Carolina and Virginia for several years. She left Franklin last evening for Edenton and had almost reached her destination when the cyclone struck her.

Quack Lived High.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—Herr Nardenkott, whose name in large black type has been a feature for years in the German press in connection with nostrums, has been sentenced in contumacy to three years' imprisonment and to a fine of $900 after a trial which had been a fortnight's sensation. Nardenkott spent millions of marks in advertising, lived richly and contrived to defy the medical societies and public prosecutors for years, and now he has escaped punishment by going to England and forfeiting his bail. Nardenkott on one occasion, it was alleged during the trial, being in a great hurry to satisfy some of his patients, simply filled their bottles with soapy water from a wash bowl.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Along the River—The river fell about 7 feet during the night and continues falling rapidly today. The Virginia is due up at 6 o'clock this evening, 30 hours late on account of the high water. She is due down tomorrow forenoon. The Ben Hur is due up at 9 tonight.

Concluding Lecture—One of the eloquent and scholarly lectures was heard in this city last evening delivered by Rev. Dr. Thomas Dixon, Jr., the noted speaker and pulpit orator of New York, on "Backbone." There was a large audience, which was delighted by the witty, wise and eloquent sayings of the eminent speaker. The lecture concludes the high school series.

Evangelistic Services—Commencing this evening the First U. P. church will hold evangelistic services. The pastor, Rev. J. C. Taggart, will be assisted the first two weeks by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo. Rev. Mr. Hawk is an evangelist of great power. For some time he has been conducting meetings at Scioto. The attendance there became so large that it was necessary to go to the opera house in order to accommodate all those who wished to hear him, the church being too small.

A GOOD BUSINESS MAN

Excellent Reasons Why Joseph Barlow Should Be Councilman-at-Large.

There is no more popular candidate for any office in the list than Uncle Joe Barlow, who would like to be councilman-at-large. That he will land the nomination there is no doubt, as he has not only had the experience but is in every way qualified to fill the position which he seeks. Joseph Barlow is a conservative man and a careful one. He is one of the best councilmen the city has ever had and the interests of the taxpayers will be well taken care of when placed in his hands.

He is a good business man, and never makes a move without considering well and carefully. His aim has been to advocate and vote for those measures which would be a benefit to the whole people, and no man can say that he ever voted for a proposition through or by reason of a selfish motive. Of the several candidates for the position there is no safer man nor one who can be more fully relied upon to represent his constituents in a satisfactory and efficient manner. 41-h

DAVY CROXALL

A Popular and Prominent Candidate for the Office of Councilman-at-Large.

E. N. Croxall, who is among the leading candidates for councilman-at-large, at the coming primary, acquired the nickname of "Davy" so long ago that he scarcely remembers when he was not more accustomed to be called by that name than any other. There may be those who would be confused in figuring out who is meant by E. N. Croxall, and for their benefit it is well to say now that the candidate for councilman-at-large is the very same "Davy." He is a presser by trade and has worked at the bench all his life.

For several terms he has held the responsible position of president of local union No. 4, one of the oldest and most important of all the Brotherhood organizations. Mr. Croxall hails from the Fourth ward where he is well known and highly respected. This ward is one of the largest in the city, and it is the opinion of those residing there that it should be represented by an able man.

The Fourth ward has more suburban territory than any other in the city, and will therefore necessitate more consideration at the hands of council in the matter of ordinances and acceptance of plots. The Fourth has a righteous claim upon the position, and the voters will surely take this view of the matter. 41-h

Mrs. Laura F. Morris, aged 77 years died Monday night at West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, from a complication of dropsy and the infirmities of age. The Fox went away, but from a hiding place he saw the Peasant lug out and set the traps spoken of and was careful to note where they were placed. An hour after dark he approached the henhouse with the design of selecting and carrying off the fattest pullet, but he had not yet found his way in when his foot was caught in the jaws of a trap, and the Peasant came out of his house at the same time.

"Alas, but is this your gratitude?" wailed the Fox as he realized that his end was near. "Didn't I take the pains to come to you and warn you that the Wolf would be after your lambs?" "Yes, you did," replied the Peasant, "and you hadn't been gone an hour when the Wolf came and warned me that you would be after my fowls. I therefore decided to fish for Wolf and Fox at the same time."

WHIRLWIND STRIKES A STEAMER

Seventeen Lives Lost by Sinking of the Olive—The Captain and Five Others Saved.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 18.—A cyclone struck the passenger steamer Olive, which plies between Franklin, Va., and Edenton, N. C., at 9:30 o'clock Monday night and sent her to the bottom of the Chowan river. Seventeen people are known to have been drowned, and others who were rescued are in a serious condition.

The whirlwind when it struck the Olive caused her to go over on her beam's end, and when she righted it was only to sink on account of the water she had taken. A majority of the passengers and crew were below at the time and had no opportunity to reach the pilot house of the vessel. This point was the only portion left above water and in it standing waist deep from the time of the accident until 6 o'clock in the morning, Capt. George H. Withy and five others were saved. Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock the river steamer Pettit hove in sight and rescued the almost frozen survivors.

The Olive was a small singlescrew steamer, owned by J. A. Pretlow of Franklin, Va., and has been plying between North Carolina and Virginia for several years. She left Franklin last evening for Edenton and had almost reached her destination when the cyclone struck her.

Quack Lived High.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—Herr Nardenkoetter, whose name in large black type has been a feature for years in the German press in connection with nostrums, has been sentenced in continuity to three years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $900 after a trial which had been a fortnight's sensation. Nardenkoetter spent millions of marks in advertising, lived richly and contrived to defy the medical societies and public prosecutors for years, and now he has escaped punishment by going to England and forfeiting his bail. Nardenkoetter on one occasion, it was alleged during the trial, being in a great hurry to satisfy some of his patients, simply filled their bottles with soapy water from a wash bowl.

TWELVE BELOW ZERO COLDEST OF WINTER

The Mercury Took a Most Surprising Tumble Shortly Before Midnight Last Night.

BLIZZARD STILL ON, BUT RELIEF IN SIGHT

The cold weather, by several degrees the coldest of the winter, has the city practically at its mercy and as a result much suffering is being reported from the poor districts and the impediment to railway traffic and business generally is being keenly felt.

According to thermometers stationed in several locations of the city the mercury reached its lowest figure before midnight. At the entrance of the East Liverpool bridge 12 degrees below zero was reported and at Craig's drug store, Fifth and Market streets, the mercury dropped to 8 below. In the West End 6 below was registered and the average lowest point reached over the vicinity was about 7 below. The startling drop at the river's edge is not to be wondered at, such conditions always prevailing around the waters.

Before morning a decided rise was noticeable and by 8 o'clock the cold had moderated sufficiently to banish alarming prospects. Throughout the day, however, only people who considered it absolutely necessary were to be found on the streets, toasting their feet before a bright fire being the preference.

One feature for which the populace has offered many thanks is the generally plentiful supply of gas. It is seldom when a cold snap settles on the vicinity that the gas does not run.

aggravatingly low but at this time it has flown with regularity, except in portions of the East End, and caused no inconvenience, with the exception of a few hours this afternoon.

The township trustees have been continuously applied to for aid, the most calls being, however, for fuel. Some of the less fortunate were destitute of both heat and food but few of the latter have come to notice. In Shantytown there has probably been the most suffering. Nearly every resident of that district is out of coal and water-soaked wood was the only resort. Such fuel gives poor heat and in consequence distressing conditions prevailed.

Street cars are running on the best schedule possible but with great difficulty. The Wellsville line has been troubled more than those to any other points. Snowdrifts piled along the highways entering the city from the country districts have made it almost impossible for the farmer to reach town and all roads being so obstructed the business men have suffered financially.

Snow fell at intervals nearly all day and the wind kept it in motion.

Warmer weather is promised for tonight and tomorrow and the prognosis has been hailed with joy not only locally but over the entire country.

FIERCE ATTACK BY FOUR MEN

Desperate Attempt to Kill John Elliott Followed by an Exciting Chase.

A feud originating in Chester last summer and never dying during the many intervening months came near resulting in terrible injury or possible murder to John Elliott, an ex-policeman of Chester, at an early hour yesterday morning in the vicinity of the Albion house, when the four men with whom he had had trouble met him.

To his fleetness of foot he assigns his escape from those who had vowed at sight to lay him in cold blood. Since his removal from the Chester force he has lived a few miles back of this city and upon his every visit he has been on the lookout for the quartet, knowing their character and realizing that they are not the men to shrink from any act of maliciousness. Upon his arrival in the city he was careful as before, and when he entered the Albion house late at night he did not suspect that his dreaded antagonists would be there. Without a word the entire bunch started at him, one with a huge knife and three with clenched fists. Frightened so badly that he could not even entertain a thought of defense he turned like a flash and ran with all speed to the city hall, where he notified Officers Dunn and Mahoney of his experience.

The officers immediately started out in search of the four daring men and soon caught sight of three of them. It seems that they saw the officers at the same time and without delay started on a run for the South Side bridge. When they landed at the toll station the officers were only a short distance in the rear, but the pursued gained and effected an escape.

Foiled in their attempt to capture the trio the officers decided to return and institute a search for the one man, who, it is said, held the knife which no doubt would have figured in a death blow. While walking on Third street, eyeing every man closely their man saw them coming and knowing their purpose, quickly planned a successful mode of escape. A street car passing at the time, going at a terrific rate, was utilized by the nervy man who ran out in the street boarded the car, opened the door hastily and fell prostrate on the floor. The officers closely scrutinized the car but saw no one in it.

Elliott is fearful of an awful culmination to his trouble with the men and will not be at ease until they are apprehended, which no doubt will be the case upon their next visit to this city.

This is the fourth big pottery fire here within a year.

Charles Carr is still uncaptured. Notwithstanding the fact that the officers have been near him the greater part of the time since he viciously attacked Attorney George Ingram and Lee Kidd who were attempting to arrest him, he has eluded them. They learned that he was in hiding Monday night at Congo and yesterday afternoon a number of officers, including Sheriff C. F. Allison, Constable J. H. Allison, Deputy Sheriff O. O. Allison, Attorney George H. Ingram and E. S. Good went after him.

They left Chester on the afternoon train and went where they had heard that Carr was hiding. They searched the house thoroughly but found that he had left. They knew positively that he had been there the night before but evidently had been afraid that he would be found and had again left for the Ohio side. Two of the officers remained all night in close proximity to the house but Carr did not come near the place. He will be arrested. Requisition papers will be secured to bring him back to the West Virginia side if he refuses to come himself.

Mr. Cain and his efficient assistants were taxed to their utmost to attend the wishes of the gentlemen, while his admirable wife was kept busy with the ladies, of whom there were about 50 present. The entertainment was a complete success in every respect, and Mr. and Mrs. Cain should feel much flattered by the large attendance, and many good words extended him.

CAMERON WILL NOT LOSE ITS POTTERY

Town Council Stands By the Company and Do's Not Heed a Protest.

A RIVAL ELECTRIC PROJECT

Responsible for the Attempt to Put the Pottery Men Out of Business Work Now Resumed on the Building of the Plant.

Cameron, W. Va., February 18.—(Special).—The controversy between the lower council and the Cameron Pottery company is settled, the protest to the council proving unavailing. Work is now proceeding again. Concerning the dispute and its origin S. E. Stricklin makes the following statement:

"When the Cameron Pottery company was organized the stockholders agreed to connect with the pottery company an electric light plant to furnish light to the town of Cameron, as well as operating the light machinery by electricity. The council which was in office during the time of the organization of the Cameron pottery company granted a franchise through the streets and alleys for the purpose of erecting poles and wires necessary to the operation of the light plant. The electric light plant and also the Cameron Pottery company are owned by the same stockholders and are one and the same thing. S. E. Stricklin, manager of the pottery company, gave a bond to the directors of the Cameron company that he would erect the light plant and pottery for a certain sum of money and operate it for the period of 30 days. He would then turn it over to the directors of the Cameron Pottery company, at which time he would have fulfilled his contract with the company and be released from the responsibility of the contract. Under these conditions Mr. Stricklin could not build the pottery without building the light plant, nor could he build the light plant without building the pottery.

"After the old council, which granted the former franchise to the Cameron Pottery company had retired from office, the new council, which had been duly elected, had been installed, Mr. Emsheimer made application to council for another franchise for an electric light plant in Cameron. While knowing that two such plants would not pay in a town of this size, the Cameron Pottery company offered no objections to the new council granting a franchise to Mr. Emsheimer, simply knowing that the Cameron Pottery company could furnish light as cheaply as any other competing company, and that it would be the survival of the fittest in the end.

"The Cameron Pottery company had gone ahead, secured their poles and placed them around the town, ready to be put up, and everything was proceeding very nicely in the work when Mr. Emsheimer brought in a protest to the town council, praying that it would revoke the former franchise granted the Cameron Pottery company, which, it was claimed, was not legal.

"Under these circumstances the pottery company, having already started work on its plant, decided that if the old franchise was revoked, Mr. Stricklin could not fulfill his contract, and notified the council and citizens of Cameron that they would not proceed any further with building until the matter of the franchise was settled. Several cities, hearing of this, immediately offered all kinds of favorable inducements to move their plants from Cameron and locate in their city, but the stockholders and members of the Cameron Pottery company advised Mr. Stricklin not to proceed any further with the work on the factory, or make any other arrangements with any outside town for a location until the matter had been definitely settled at the next regular meeting of council which took place on the 16th of February.

"After the pottery company had taken this stand, the citizens of Cameron immediately came to its assistance circulating petitions through the town for the signature of the business men and citizens, praying that the new council would grant and confirm the old franchise granted to the Cameron Pottery company. Last evening, at a regular meeting of the council, before which the matter was to be brought up the citizens of Cameron turned out en-

ANTI-SALOON CAMPAIGN CONTINUES IN LISBON

A Temperance Society Keeping Up the Fight—Will Have Another Beal Law Election.

Lisbon, February 18.—(Special).—The anti-saloon people of Lisbon, having been defeated when the question of excluding the saloons was submitted to the voters under the Beal law last May, are keeping up a determined "campaign of education" this winter, with the intention of holding another election at the expiration of the two-year limit.

A temperance society has been organized, which meets every Wednesday evening in the M. E. church, and in which some of the most prominent professional men of the county seat take an active part. The meetings are proving very interesting, some phase of the question being presented each evening in a new and varied program which includes, besides the addresses on temperance, recitations, solos, quartets and selections by an orchestra. Large audiences are attracted by these meetings and both the attendance and interest are increasing. Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, will give an illustrated lecture this evening.

SOCIAL SESSION TONIGHT

Peabody Lodge No. 19, K. of P., Will Commemorate Thirty-Fourth Anniversary.

Peabody lodge No. 19, Knights of Pythias, will celebrate the thirty-fourth anniversary of its organization with a social session this evening. A splendid musical and literary program has been arranged and a large number of the friends of the members have been invited to share in the festivities.

The lodge is in a very flourishing condition and its membership includes some of the city's best men.

Hurt by Falling.

Attorney James McGarry is suffering with a sprained wrist and ankle as the result of an accident occurring this morning while he was descending the steps from his office in the Barker building, Fifth street. Snow had covered the steps making the footing uncertain causing him to slip and fall with violence to the street. The injuries though painful will not necessitate his confinement to home.

A Successful Affair.

The oyster supper given last evening by the Sons of Veterans and G. A. R., under the auspices of the W. R. C., at the G. A. R. hall, was more successful than was expected, owing to the severe weather. A neat sum was realized, which was turned over to the relief fund. After the supper the guests spent an enjoyable social evening.

A Delightful Party.

Miss Mary Morley last evening delightfully entertained about 50 of her friends at her home on College street. The young people spent a delightful hour at cards, after which some time was spent in dancing. Choice refreshments were served. Miss Morley proved herself an admirable hostess.

Going to California.

Lisbon, February 18.—(Special).—Judge and Mrs. J. C. Boone will leave here early next week for New Orleans from whence, after witnessing the Mardi Gras festivities, they will continue on to California, where they will sojourn for a couple of months.

A Business Meeting.

The Ladies' Embroidery circle of St. Stephen's church held a business meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Edwin Weary on Fourth street.

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE HAS ARRANGED ALL DETAILS FOR PRIMARY NEXT SATURDAY

Polling Places Selected and Committeemen Chosen to Preside Over the Election in the Several Localities.

The Republican city committee held its final meeting last night, and all preparations for the primary election were completed. Nearly all the candidates were present, and most of them took part in the discussions. The first business taken up was the adoption of the official ballot which was submitted by the News Review. The ticket contains the names of each candidate just as it will appear when the elector comes to vote, and was adopted by the committee in the following form:

For Mayor—O. D. Nice, Thomas V. Thompson, Dr. R. J. Marshall, Andy C. Roa.

For President of Council—Robert Burner, John Horwell, Geo. E. Rigby. For City Auditor—Will's Davidson. For City and Township Treasurer—Chris Horton, Joseph Betz.

For City Solicitor—George E. Davidson. For Board of Public Service, (three to nominate)—George Olmhausen, W. L. Smith, Jno. N. Taylor, George Peach, Jacob Schenkel, John H. Harris, Charles Hanley.

For Councilmen at Large, (three to nominate)—Joseph Barlow, Henry E. Bullock, Henry Chambers, Herman Feustel, Jr., E. N. Croxall, R. C. Hedleston.

For Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCarron.

For Constable—John McVay, W. E. Cooper, William Copestick, Wm. Zane Davis.

For Township Trustee—Joseph Beardmore.

For Board of Education, (three to nominate)—W. B. Hill, E. M. Knowles, Jesse H. Smith.

For Ward Councilmen (one to nominate in each ward)—First ward—James W. Jamison, W. B. Thomas, A. G. Chaffin, Zed T. Smith.

Second ward—Hugh Johnston, U. G. King.

Third ward—Howard E. Moon.

For assessor (one to nominate in each ward)—First ward—J. S. Fowler.

Second ward—T. O. Terrence.

Third ward—Charles McKee. Fourth ward—W. H. Gaston. Township—W. S. McBane. George Smith, of the Fourth ward offered a resolution providing that a reward of $25 should be paid to the person causing the conviction of anyone caught voting illegally or repeating. The motion was carried unanimously, showing that the members of the central committee and the candidates had no part in any deal of the kind.

The reason for this action is said to have been that several of the candidates had been accused of having a move on foot to secure the services of repeaters. All denied that they knew anything of such a move.

A motion prevailed that all committeemen presenting a bill for their services on nomination day shall receive $2.

As there will be three candidates to nominate for the position of councilman-at-large, and two of them will be placed on the ticket for two years and the third for one, the question arose as to who of the three would be the two-year men. It was decided that the two aspirants receiving the highest number of votes should be placed on the Republican ticket for the two year term. The location of the polling places fixed in the nine precincts can be found elsewhere in this edition.

The central committeemen who will have charge of the voting in the different precincts are as follows:

First ward—First precinct, Fed Ferran, Jay Fisher, J. E. Davis.

Second precinct—George Hale, Hugh Clark, J. S. Fowler.

Second Ward—First Precinct, W. H. Vodrey, W. B. Hill, H. W. Smith.

PROTECTED HER WITH HIS PISTOL

Graham Defended His Sweetheart and Got Arrested for Carrying Weapons.

William Graham, an employe at Vodrey's pottery, last Monday night with revolver in hand, stood defending the young and pretty daughter of John Godwin, of Fifth street, and defying her father and brother.

Miss Godwin is yet in her teens, an attractive brunette, and has been employed in various homes in the city as a domestic. She was last working at the home of George C. Keil, lawyer Fifth street, and having been discharged was leaving the residence at about 11 o'clock Monday evening in company with Graham when seen by her father.

From the meager details learned at the office of Squire McCarron, where a warrant for the arrest of Graham was issued last evening, the father has objected strenuously to his daughter keeping company with Graham and when he saw them together his first thought was to follow and demand that the girl return to her home. He hastened after the couple and reached them at the corner of Monroe street. Meantime her brother James had joined them.

McAleer's Body Taken Home.

The body of James McAleer, the victim of the East Liverpool Sarge works fire, was claimed today by his two brothers, Charles and Martin McAleer. The body was taken to Allegheny today on the noon train and the interment will be made there tomorrow.

The News Review is the oldest and the best daily in Columbiana county.

ed in the chase and was soon on the scene.

Both of the relatives in loud voices commanded the girl to desert her escort and go with them at once. She preferring his company, was not willing to accede to the demand and was expostulating stubbornly when father and son made a dash for her. It was then that Graham took a decided hand in the affair. He leaped between the girl and her persecutors and, flourishing a revolver, very quickly turned the tables. As the girl's protector, he dared them to step further. They grasped the situation and began to shrink backward. In a short time they were homeward bound. Graham, it is said, decided to deliver his charge to her parents, and accompanied her home close on the heels of the vanquished.

On a charge of pointing fire-arms Graham was arraigned this morning, having been arrested while at work by Constable Powell. He was released on furnishing a bond of $100 for his appearance tomorrow evening.

UNDER DELAWARE LAWS

A Gold Mining Company of Lisbon Has Been Incorporated With $500,000 Capital.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A COMING WEDDING.

Miss Ella Mercer, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city, left for Sebring, says the Salem Herald. Miss Mercer will be married on February 24, in Warren, to Frank Watson, of Sebring, but late of Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Watson is employed as a kiln placer in the Sebring pottery. They will go to housekeeping in Sebring. Miss Mercer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Mercer and formerly resided in this city.

WILL NOT BE ACTIVE.

Mention was recently made in several newspapers of the connection of M. F. Albright, of Sebring, in the Carrollton pottery venture, and that he would move from Alliance to Carrollton to become permanently connected with the enterprise. While being interested to a certain extent, it is not his intention to move to Carrollton or to take an active part in the operation of the plant.

COLD SNAP UNWELCOME.

Operatives in all the plants who depended on the street cars to reach their work lost several hours yesterday besides suffering a great deal of inconvenience. They also experienced much trouble in reaching their homes after the day's work was done. Talking it all around the cold snap has not been favorably received and nearly everybody will be glad when it is at an end.

AFTER A LONG ABSENCE.

C. B. Smith, of the mining district of Colorado, is the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Snyder, of Oregon avenue, Sebring. Mr. Smith was born at New Baltimore, Stark county, and has not been back since leaving in 1879. Being a boy when going, everything seems new and strange about the old homestead. His visit to the potteries was one of much interest and enjoyment.

A GROWING PLANT.

The Lowry Pottery company, at Roseville, has completed the erection of a two-story addition to its pottery, thereby making it possible to meet the demand for ware. The pottery is being run by experienced management and has grown from a small concern until now it is one of the busiest concerns in Roseville. The ware is durable and attractive.

MOVED TO AKRON.

Mrs. Allen Hargreaves left this week for Akron to join Mr. Hargreaves, who has been employed at the Barberton plant for the past few months. Before going to Barberton Mr. Hargreaves was a packer at Cartwright's, and he is well known and well liked over here. They will go to housekeeping in Akron.

CHANGES AT THE UNION.

CURING CONSUMPTION.

When Scott's Emulsion makes the consumptive gain flesh it is curing his consumption.

Exactly what goes on inside to make the consumptive gain weight when taking Scott's Emulsion is still a mystery.

Scott's Emulsion does something to the lungs too that reduces the cough. More weight and less cough always mean that consumption is losing its influence over the system.

BASEBALL LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

In Which East Liverpool and a Number of Ohio Cities May Figure.

EARLY MEETING CALLED

To Perfect the Organization of Eight Teams to be Chosen From Eleven Cities—There May be Sunday Baseball.

From present indications East Liverpool is not only going to have a satisfied baseball team but the team is going to be of a league of Ohio organizations and unless the other teams proposing to join the league make a decided hustle the Crockery City will enjoy the distinction of owning the pennant winners.

There is a scheme on foot to organize a circuit of baseball clubs with only Ohio towns in the league. Steubenville is the smallest town mentioned in the list of cities that are wanted to compose the league but as the town has an envied reputation as a good sporting town, and now that it is growing and so many young people have gone to the city, it is looked upon as a good baseball town and one where semi-professional games would flourish.

The movement to organize a league began a couple of weeks ago and the towns mentioned for teams are Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Steubenville, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield and Mansfield. With these eleven towns it is hoped to get at least eight good teams so that the season can be finished. There would be no big traveling expense, as is the case in so many leagues, and often the cause of their collapse before the season is ended. There is nothing in fact that now advertises a town like a ball club, for it carries the name of the city in to months of thousands of people every summer.

The offer to place an East Liverpool team in the league came to Secretary G. Y. Travis from Secretary James F. Reynolds of the Mansfield club, who wrote the following letter:

"We want East Liverpool in the circuit of Ohio Base Ball League, and I thought of no better person to write to for information than yourself. They are figuring on eight cities to form the circuit. Here are some of the cities mentioned: Youngstown, East Liverpool, Canton, Zanesville, Newark, Akron, Lima, Findlay, Springfield, Mansfield, and would like to have East Liverpool in the league. Of course all of these cities won't be included, but the object is to get eight out of the bunch. Do you think there is a chance to interest some one in your city who will put a team in the league? We are going to play Sunday ball here and will make some money out of it. If it isn't too much trouble, suppose you speak to some one there whom you think would interest themselves in the project, and let me hear from you on the subject. I am secretary of the club here and will get down to your city during the summer if you should have a team in the league. We are going to call a meeting at an early date to perfect the organization."

LIKE FINDING MONEY

B. C. Ansley Offers Popular Medicine at Half Price.

B. C. Ansley, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty-cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist B. C. Ansley that this medicine can be bought for less than 50 cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable. Any one who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, B. C. Ansley will return your money.

How Peruna Saves Lives

MRS. COL. E. J. GRESHAM, Treasurer Daughters of the Confederacy, and President Herndon Village Improvement Society, writes the following letter from Herndon, Fairfax county, Va.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again. "I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and a third bottle and kept on improving slowly. "It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a king's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."

—Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham.

Thousands of women owe their lives to Peruna. Tens of thousands owe their health to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands are praising Peruna in every state in the Union. We have on file a great multitude of letters, with written permission for use in public print, which can never be used for want of space.

Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for a book written especially for women, instructively illustrated, entitled "Health and Beauty." Sent free to women.

EAST END

CAS AGAIN SHORT

The Same Thing Happens in the East End During Every Cold Snap.

The same old story has to be recorded during every cold snap. Residents of the East End are again having their troubles with the gas. Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock it went off entirely and remained off for an hour. This morning at 9 o'clock it again went off in many places, and where it did not go off altogether it was so low that no heat could be secured from it. It did not remain off more than an hour.

So much trouble has been experienced this winter with the gas that nearly all the residents of the East End have equipped their houses with coal stoves, and when the weather turns very cold have a coal fire to depend upon. It has been asserted that the shortage in the gas supply has resulted in the greater part of the sickness in the East End so far during the winter.

Miss Howell formerly resided in this city and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. McAfee is widely known here. The couple will make their home in Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. McAfee is with a large grocery establishment.

Financial Report on Army Appropriation Measure Agreed To.

DISCUSSION ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senator Teller Feels Insulted—House Begins Consideration of Naval Appropriation — Amendments to Indian Appropriation Disagreed to.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The senate yesterday agreed to the financial report on the army appropriation bill. Discussion of the statehood bill was resumed and Mr. Depew continued his remarks in opposition to it. He yielded to Mr. Proctor, who presented the conference report on the army appropriation bill, which was agreed to, and then resumed his remarks.

After Mr. Depew had proceeded for some time Mr. Teller took exception to some of his remarks regarding the unequal representation in the senate. Advancing to the center aisle and speaking with great fervor, Mr. Teller said it was so small a thing to talk about changing the form under which this government had grown so great and so strong.

"I have listened to a good deal of nonsense," said he; "I have listened to a good deal I consider beneath the dignity of the senate, but I cannot listen to Mr. Depew's remarks without saying here, as a senator and as a citizen of the United States, I feel insulted and I think the American people will feel this insult from the senator from New York."

Replying, Mr. Depew said he regretted Mr. Teller felt insulted, but "when you add to the minority representation in this senate," said he, "and take it farther away from the people you are calling attention to a condition where you cannot tell what the people may do in the discussions of the future."

Mr. Depew had not concluded when at 4:05 p. m. the senate adjourned.

In the House, The house yesterday began consideration of the naval appropriation bill under the operation of a rule which made the new legislation relative to the increase of the personnel of the navy and for the increase of the Naval Academy in order. The paragraph in the bill providing $250,000 for a naval station on the Great Lakes went out on a point of order. Mr. Littlefield and Mr. Sulzer had an interesting clash before the naval bill was taken up, the former charging the latter with having perverted the record. After some further remarks general debate closed and the bill was read for amendment.

The senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were disagreed to and the bill sent to conference. Messrs. Sherman, Curtis (Kan.) and Little (Ark.) were appointed conferees.

At 5 p. m. the house adjourned.

Physical Culture for Soldiers. Omaha, Neb., Feb. 18.—From headquarters of the department of the Missouri orders have been issued calling attention to the value and necessity of pursuing systematic courses of athletic training in each of the army posts, indoors in winter and out of doors when the weather will permit. The commanding officer says the purpose is to make better soldiers of the men; to make them more muscular, capable of more handily controlling themselves; to keep them in better health, and to serve to make less idle time about a post.

The city Republican central committee has taken a step that all good citizens will commend most heartily. There is an unusually spirited municipal campaign in progress and the temptation to practice fraud at the primaries is greater than usual. We believe that elections, whether primary or general, are as honestly conducted in East Liverpool as anywhere. But it is best always to be on the safe side. The Republican party is too great to have any suspicion or scandal attaching to its name. The action of the city committee in offering a reward for the detection and punishment of any case of repeating or illegal voting is an emphatic notice that the party in this city stands for honesty in elections and will do everything in its power to secure it. The people will applaud and back this declaration. Honest elections are a prime essential to honest government, and nothing short of both has ever satisfied this city or ever will.

It isn't going to be as hard as usual to get out the Republican vote in East Liverpool next Saturday. The candidates are so numerous and each has so many friends that the political awakening has been pretty general. That is the sort of campaign that is welcome and refreshing. But when a citizen has voted at the primaries he must not think his whole duty done. There remains election day and he should keep his interest alive until that is past.

A Chicago inventor claims to have discovered a process of purifying river water so as to make it absolutely free from germs. A company with $2,500,000 capital has been formed to exploit the invention. If the company proposes to tackle the water supply of Ohio river towns we judge that they will need all the money.

Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice.

Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy.

COLONEL TAYLOR

Would Be an Ideal Member of the Board of Public Service.

Under the provisions of the new code almost absolute control of the financial affairs of the city is vested in the board of public service. It should therefore be composed of the best and foremost business men of the city; men who by experience have convinced the people that they are fitted in every way to take charge of this branch of the government of the city. It is a vital question with the taxpayers and they should be careful and elect the very best men obtainable for the place.

This year the people have a chance to put in office a man who is the head of one of the largest corporations in the city, and one of the largest of its kind in the world. A man who today stands without a peer in the pottery and business world. Those are the kind of men who should be placed in charge of the financial affairs of the city in order that its business may be conducted along economical lines and in a few years have the city debt reduced which will mean a material reduction in taxes. Therefore, the voters should rally to the support of John N. Taylor, as he is one of the best men that can be placed on the ticket. 41-h

NO PROMISE MADE

Thomas V. Thompson Denies Report That He Apportioned Offices to Supporters.

To the Voters of East Liverpool:

A report has been circulated by some unscrupulous and unprincipled person or persons that I have made promises to certain parties to appoint them to the offices which will be under my jurisdiction, and appointed by me in the event I am nominated for the office of mayor. I desire to brand the reports as a falsehood and take this means of notifying my friends that I am in the race on my merits alone and have made no promises to any one in return for their support, and defy the unprincipled and unscrupulous person or persons who started the report to prove it. I am in the race to win in a clean campaign and will continue to conduct my affairs along these lines throughout.

Thanking my hundreds of friends for the support in the past and present and asking a continuance of the same in the future, I am,

Most respectfully,

THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

masse and filled the council chamber to its entire capacity, showing by their presence that they were entirely in sympathy with the Cameron Pottery company and very much against the parties who brought the protest before council that the former franchise should be revoked.

"T. J. Parsons, prosecuting attorney for Marshall county, represented the interests of the Cameron Pottery company at this meeting, and in a very able manner presented the case and the rights of the pottery company to proceed on its electric light plant under the franchise formerly granted by the old council. Mr. Parsons' address was received by cheers and applause by the people of Cameron, who were at the meeting, and so emphatically demonstrated their sympathy for the pottery company that the council could not help but grant the demands of the citizens and the Cameron Pottery company, if at any time they had shown a disposition not to do so.

"The council most emphatically rejected the protest presented by Mr. Emsheimer, and on a motion to vote if council would abide by the contract made by the old council with the Cameron Pottery company, the move being seconded, the matter was voted on and decided for the Cameron Pottery company.

"The progress of the Cameron Pottery company, so far, has been very satisfactory. It is still working on the foundation of the building and pushing the work along very rapidly. The building for the mouldmaker will soon be erected, at which time the mouldmaker will take possession, and it will only be a short time until the other parts of the factory are completed. Mr. Stricklin, the contractor for this plant, received many assurances of the entire sympathy of the citizens of Cameron that he should be subjected to any such interference, and they showed their good will by the fact of all business of Cameron being suspended for the day, and the business men and the citizens took part by bringing their influence to bear on this council, that its action should be entirely in accord with the old council. The results of last night's meeting showed that their efforts were not in vain. However, now that everything is satisfactorily settled, the Cameron Pottery company has immediately started to work to dig holes for poles and erect them at the locations already confirmed by the council, and everything is progressing most favorably."

The pottery company will stand behind the town for any damage by reason of the franchise, and should the franchise be declared illegal the council agrees to grant a new one verbally.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council, Wilkes-barre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkes-barre's city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. A friend had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to Col. Harvey and he is today a well man, hale and hearty. He writes straight to the point:

Dr. David Kennedy,
 Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Wm. J. Harvey.

Rheumatism is but another name for uric acid poisoning which is caused primarily by diseased kidneys. Cure your kidneys and the rheumatism disappears. For all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as sicknesses peculiar to women, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is unquestionably the greatest medicine known to the medical profession.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

ACREEMENT WITH VENEZUELA.

All Claims of Citizens to Be Examined and Decided by Commission in Caracas—Awards to Be Payable in U. S. Gold or Its Equivalent.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Secretary Hay, for the United States, and Mr. Bowen, for Venezuela, yesterday signed a protocol providing for the adjustment of United States claims against Venezuela by a commission to meet at Caracas. The protocol is expected to serve as a model for similar instruments to be arranged with the other claimant powers. The text of the protocol, in part, is as follows:

Protocol of an agreement between the Secretary of State of the United States of America and the plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela for submission to arbitration of all unsettled claims of citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela.

The United States of America and the republic of Venezuela, through their representatives, John Hay, secretary of state of the United States of America, and Herbert B. Bowen, the plenipotentiary of the republic of Venezuela, have agreed upon and signed the following protocol:

The Protocol.

Article I. All claims owned by citizens of the United States of America against the republic of Venezuela which have not been settled by diplomatic agreement or arbitration between the two governments, and which shall have been presented to the commission hereinafter named by the department of state of the United States or its legation at Caracas, shall be examined and decided by a mixed commission which shall sit at Caracas and which shall consist of two members, one of whom is to be appointed by the president of the United States and the other by the president of Venezuela. It is agreed that an umpire may be named by the Queen of Netherlands. The commissioners and the umpire shall meet in the city of Caracas on the first day of June, 1903. The umpire shall preside over their deliberations and shall be competent to decide any question on which the commissioners disagree. Before assuming the functions of their offices the commissioners and the umpire shall take solemn oath carefully to examine and impartially decide, according to justice and the provisions of this convention, all claims submitted to them, and such oaths shall be entered on the record of their proceedings. The decisions of the commission, and in the event of their disagreement those of the umpire shall be final and conclusive. They shall be in writing. Awards shall be made payable in United States gold or its equivalent in silver.

Article II. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer. The commissioners shall investigate and decide said claims upon such evidence or information only as shall be furnished by or on behalf of the respective governments. In case of their failure to agree in opinion upon any individual claim, the umpire shall decide. Every claim shall be formally presented to the commissioners within 30 days from the date of their first meeting unless the commissioners or the umpire in any case extend the period for presenting the claim not exceeding three months longer.

Article III. The commissioners and the umpire shall keep an accurate record of their proceedings and for that purpose each commissioner shall appoint a secretary versed in the language of both countries. Except as herein stipulated all questions of procedure shall be left to the determination of the commission, or in case of their disagreement to the umpire.

Article IV. Reasonable compensation to the commissioners and to the umpire for their services and expenses and the other expenses of said arbitration are to be paid in equal moieties by the contracting parties.

Article V. In order to pay the total amount of the claims to be adjudicated and other claims of citizens or subjects or other nations, the government of Venezuela shall set apart for this purpose and alienate to no other purpose, beginning with the month of March, 1903, 30 per cent in monthly payments of the customs revenues of La Guaira and Puerto Cabello. In case of the failure to carry out the above agreement Belgian officials shall be placed in charge of the customs of the two ports and shall administer them until the liabilities of the Venezuelan government, in respect of the above claims, shall have been discharged.

Article VI. All existing and unsettled awards in the United States shall be promptly paid according to the terms of the respective awards. (Signed)

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Rumors of Gold Exports Develops Active Selling Movement—Market Closed Heavy.

New York, Feb. 18.—The movement of prices of stocks yesterday was confused and irregular and accurately reflected in that way the state of mind of those who were trading. This element was pretty closely restricted to the room traders. Business from commission houses was at a low level from any source.

The industrial stocks had a rather more prominent place in the trading, but their price movement was very spotty. The rather active selling movement which developed midway of the session was prompted by the well-defined rumors that exports of gold were being negotiated for Thursday's steamer. No official acknowledgment of the truth of these rumors could be secured, but the refusal to disclaim them by one or two prominent international banking houses gave color to the report. Sterling exchange advanced several points but reacted a fraction of a cent in Paris. The highest rates for time money here operate as an obstacle to an outgo of gold.

Damage to property by the great storm was of some influence in prompting the light selling. The market closed heavy at about the lowest.

Money on call steady at 2 1/4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 to 5 1/4 per cent.

There was heavy selling of St. Louis and San Francisco funding bonds. The market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,250,000.

U. S. 5s old declined 3/4 per cent on the last call.

missioners shall be bound to examine and decide upon every claim within six months from the day of its first formal presentation and in case of their disagreement the umpire shall examine and decide within a corresponding period from the date of such disagreement.

Shortage in the Coal Supply Causing Much Suffering—Railroad Traffic Is Suspended and Collieries Closed—Fatalities Reported.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 18.—Pillsbury reports from Monday afternoon's storm show that considerable damage was done to property throughout Western South Carolina and that the fatalities numbered five. The chief destruction was at Honza Path, in Anderson county, where Earle McGee and Bertie Austin were killed out right and A. G. Stone and Edgar Donald were severely injured. The four youths were returning from school and with two others they took refuge in a brick store, which toppled when the cyclone struck it. In Aiken county two children were killed by a falling tree and one by a falling chimney. In Laurens county a negro's cabin fell and a child was fatally crushed. Two frame churches at Abbeville and many cottages and cabins throughout Western North Carolina were thrown down.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 18.—The cold yesterday made a new record in Kansas, the government thermometer this morning registering 10 degrees below zero. The snowfall in the state for the past three days has averaged six inches. Near Clay Center a woman was frozen to death. Reports from western counties show a great shortage in the coal supply. The railroads have not been able to deliver cars on account of the storm, and as a result the suffering has been widespread. As the outcome of the recent legislative coal famine investigation two bills were reported making it a crime for a railroad to confiscate any coal consigned to a shipper, no matter how great their need may be.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 18.—The worst blockade of the winter was experienced yesterday by the railroads entering Cheyenne. A strong wind filled all cuts with snow and trains have been unable to move. Seven passenger trains and a number of freights are snowbound on Sherman hill. The Cheyenne and Northern is blocked between Cheyenne and Horse creek and the Denver Pacific is impassable between Cheyenne and Carr. From Cheyenne east the Union Pacific and the Burlington are experiencing great difficulty. A high wind is sweeping the snow from the ranges and stock will be able to get feed.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The weather is growing steadily warmer, the thermometer registering seven degrees above zero last night. Reports from over the state are that snow and steel have caused considerable damage. Tell City is snowbound, mails have been shut off and no coal can be brought into town. Around Scottsburg the snow is a foot deep. Thermometers at Brazil marked from 14 to 16 degrees below yesterday morning. At Wabash the temperature was 12 degrees below zero.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 18.—The first loss of life from the recent blizzard was reported from El Paso yesterday. W. Garrison, an aged hack driver, and an old Indian fighter, was found frozen in the snow. Rivers are overflowing from the heavy rains and snow, and railroad traffic is crippled and telephone and telegraphic wires are down in many places.

Shenandoah, Pa., Feb. 18.—The heavy snowstorm was followed yesterday by zero weather and a fierce north wind, causing snow drifts which completely choked off all traffic on the electric railway and forced all the collieries in this vicinity to close down early in the day. The wind had abated somewhat last night.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 18.—A snow storm and blizzard prevailed Monday night and part of yesterday, causing the stoppage of operations at all the collieries in this region. It will be several days before the roads are cleared.

Explosion Kills Two.

Bowie, Ariz., Feb. 18.—At the Buckeye mine, nine miles south of this place, two men were killed, two seriously injured and a number of others slightly hurt as the result of an explosion of dynamite.

Railroaders Receive Increase.

Cincinnati, Feb. 18.—The conference between a committee representing the engineers and firemen and officials of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad concluded yesterday with an agreement on an increase in wages on a basis of 3 1/2 per cent. For overtime the increase was considerably more.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Along the River—The river fell about 7 feet during the night and continues falling rapidly today. The Virginia is due up at 6 o'clock this evening, 30 hours late on account of the high water. She is due down tomorrow forenoon. The Ben Hur is due up at 9 tonight.

Concluding Lecture—One of the eloquent and scholarly lectures was heard in this city last evening delivered by Rev. Dr. Thomas Dixon, Jr., the noted speaker and pulpit orator of New York, on "Backbone." There was a large audience, which was delighted by the witty, wise and eloquent sayings of the eminent speaker. The lecture concludes the high school series.

Evangelistic Services—Commencing this evening the First U. P. church will hold evangelistic services. The pastor, Rev. J. C. Taggart, will be assisted the first two weeks by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo. Rev. Mr. Hawk is an evangelist of great power. For some time he has been conducting meetings at Scioto. The attendance there became so large that it was necessary to go to the opera house in order to accommodate all those who wished to hear him, the church being too small.

A GOOD BUSINESS MAN

Excellent Reasons Why Joseph Barlow Should Be Councilman-at-Large.

There is no more popular candidate for any office in the list than Uncle Joe Barlow, who would like to be councilman-at-large. That he will land the nomination there is no doubt, as he has not only had the experience but is in every way qualified to fill the position which he seeks. Joseph Barlow is a conservative man and a careful one. He is one of the best councilmen the city has ever had and the interests of the taxpayers will be well taken care of when placed in his hands.

He is a good business man, and never makes a move without considering well and carefully. His aim has been to advocate and vote for those measures which would be a benefit to the whole people, and no man can say that he ever voted for a proposition through or by reason of a selfish motive. Of the several candidates for the position there is no safer man nor one who can be more fully relied upon to represent his constituents in a satisfactory and efficient manner. 41-h

(Communicated.) DAVY CROXALL

A Popular and Prominent Candidate for the Office of Councilman-at-Large.

E. N. Croxall, who is among the leading candidates for councilman-at-large, at the coming primary, acquired the nickname of "Davy" so long ago that he scarcely remembers when he was not more accustomed to be called by that name than any other. There may be those who would be confused in figuring out who is meant by E. N. Croxall, and for their benefit it is well to say now that the candidate for councilman-at-large is the very same "Davy." He is a presser by trade and has worked at the bench all his life.

For several terms he has held the responsible position of president of local union No. 4, one of the oldest and most important of all the Brotherhood organizations. Mr. Croxall hails from the Fourth ward where he is well known and highly respected. This ward is one of the largest in the city, and it is the opinion of those residing there that it should be represented by an able man.

The Fourth ward has more suburban territory than any other in the city, and will therefore necessitate more consideration at the hands of council in the matter of ordinances and acceptance of plots. The Fourth has a righteous claim upon the position, and the voters will surely take this view of the matter. 41-h

Mrs. Laura F. Morris.

Mrs. Laura F. Morris, aged 77 years died Monday night at West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, from a complication of dropsy and the infirmities of age. She was taken to the hospital last week by her son Charles. The body was brought to this city last evening and the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Edwin Weary tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Morris was born in Clarion Pa. and came to this city when 15 years of age. She was a daughter of Ephraim Bennett and a sister of Edward and Almond Bennett, well known citizens of East Liverpool, now deceased. She was married to William P. Morris in 1853 and three children were born to them—Laura and William G., both deceased, and Charles, of this city. William P. Morris was an uncle of Andrew Carnegie who made his home here with his uncle when a boy.

CROOK FURNITURE CO.

A New Firm With $50,000 Capital to Continue the Business of Frank Crook.

The Frank Crook company has been organized and was incorporated Feb. 12, 1903, with a capital stock of $50,000. Two of the incorporators of this company are Messrs. Frank Crook and J. V. Oliver. The new firm will continue the furniture, carpet and curtain business of Frank Crook.

The latter has been in business in this city for 20 years, and is well and favorably known to a large part of the East Liverpool public. The new member of the company, Mr. Oliver, has been employed with the Hard Furniture company for five years as manager of the carpet and drapery department. Prior to that he was with the Oliver McClintock company, of Pittsburgh. The latter firm is one of the largest wholesale and retail carpet and furniture houses in the country.

Mr. Oliver knows the furniture business as well as any man in the country. His years of experience have given him a keen insight as to the wishes of the public in general. His ability to cater to the desires of the public has led to his present success and he will take up the active business of the new firm with his well known enthusiasm and push. Every department will be restocked and the business of the firm extended to meet the demands of the public. Mr. Oliver's ability in his chosen business is well known and he has hundreds of friends who will permit no one else to look after any matters pertaining to furniture for them. The success of the new firm is assured from the start. 41-h

(Communicated.) CANDIDATE AT LARGE

The Friends of Henry E. Bullock Have Cause for His Advancement.

The candidacy for councilman-at-large is an important one. Henry E. Bullock, the popular and efficient city editor of the East Liverpool Morning Tribune, is a candidate for this office and he can be voted for by any of his friends in any precinct of any ward in the city. Mr. Bullock has been a member of the city council for two years and has made an enviable record for himself in that his every action was calculated to work to the good and welfare of the people generally. He has held the position of chairman of the street committee and has performed his duties in such a satisfactory manner that no exceptions can be taken to any of them.

Some things may have been asked for that have not been done under Mr. Bullock's administration, but it is only because that action would redound to the detriment of the greater number of people that it was not done. If this a fault then Mr. Bullock is to be censured; if not then he should receive the support of all the fair minded voters of the city. His platform is now, as it has always been, the greatest good to the greatest number of people. He solicits your support at the primary election on Saturday. 41-h

Is Amongst the Most Popular Candidates for Council.

Of the several candidates that have announced for the office of councilman from the Fourth ward there is none better qualified to fill the position than Charles H. Berg. For years he has been closely identified with the affairs of the city should be carefully guarded. He served in council he took an active part in every question of importance that arose.

As he is a very heavy taxpayer he naturally has the interest of the city at heart and like every other fair minded man believes that the financial affairs of the city should be carefully guarded. The voters of the Fourth ward can make no better selection and it is unquestionably to their interest to see that Charles H. Berg is placed on the ticket as the Republican nominee for the coming spring election. 41-h

The Periods of Growth.

Children born between September and February are, some authorities state, not as tall as those born in summer and spring months, and the growth of children is much more rapid from March till August. The extremities grow rapidly up to the sixteenth year; then there is a slow growth until the thirtieth year. The legs chiefly grow between the tenth and seventeenth years. Comparing the general results, it appears that there are six periods of growth. The first extends up to the sixth or eighth year and is one of very rapid growth; the second period, from eleven to fourteen years, growth is slow; the third period, from sixteen to seventeen; the fourth period shows a slow growth up to the age of thirty for height, up to fifty for chest girth; the fifth period is one of rest, the sixth a decrease in the body.

A Roman Cure For Consumption.

Celsus was a Roman physician who flourished in the third century. He was a follower of Hippocrates and wrote various books on medicine. One of his prescriptions is for consumption and, strange enough, it is quite in accord with modern methods in some respects. He says: "As soon as a man finds himself spitting and hacking on rising in the morning he should immediately take possession of a cow and go high up into the mountains and live on the fruit of that cow." Although he knew nothing of the cause of phthisis, he had observed that good living, out of door life, lots of sunshine and an abundance of milk and cream were absolutely essential as prerequisites for treatment.—Journal of Hygiene.

A Remarkable Shawl.

The empress of Russia was once presented with a shawl of a remarkable kind. It is contained in a box only a few inches square, in which it fits easily, yet when it is shaken out it is ten yards square. This notable gift was the work of some women weavers in Orenberg, southern Russia, by whom it was presented. The box containing it is of wood, with hinges, hoops and fastenings of beaten silver.

Didn't Need It.

A book canvasser went into a barber shop and asked the proprietor if he could sell him an encyclopedia. "What's that?" asked the barber. "It's a book that contains information on every subject in the world." There was a victim in the chair, and he put in feebly, "He doesn't need it!"

Fable of the Fox And the Peasant

Once upon a time the Fox went to the Peasant and said:

"I know you have been down on me ever since one of your fowls turned up missing, but I have come to show you that I am not as black as painted. A Wolf has taken up his abode in the rocks in your lower field, and tonight he will make a raid on your sheepfold."

"Then I shall be on hand with my gun to pepper him," replied the Peasant.

"That will be well, but to make assurance doubly sure why not set traps as well? You must have several of them about."

"Yes, I have no less than six, and I will follow your advice. I am much obliged for your pointer, and any time I have a dead hen to throw out I will remember you."

The Fox went away, but from a hiding place he saw the Peasant lug out and set the traps spoken of and was careful to note where they were placed.

An hour after dark he approached the henhouse with the design of selecting and carrying off the fattest pullet, but he had not yet found his way in when his foot was caught in the jaws of a trap, and the Peasant came out of his house at the same time.

"Alas, but is this your gratitude?" wailed the Fox as he realized that his end was near. "Didn't I take the pains to come to you and warn you that the Wolf would be after your lambs?"

"Yes, you did," replied the Peasant, "and you hadn't been gone an hour when the Wolf came and warned me that you would be after my fowls. I therefore decided to fish for Wolf and Fox at the same time."

"Now, there's the only girl I ever heard of," he returned, "who was worth kissing on the cheek."—Chicago Post.

WHIRLWIND STRIKES A STEAMER

Seventeen Lives Lost by Sinking of the Olive—The Captain and Five Others Saved.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 18.—A cyclone struck the passenger steamer Olive, which plies between Franklin, Va., and Edenton, N. C., at 9:30 o'clock Monday night and sent her to the bottom of the Chowan river. Seventeen people are known to have been drowned, and others who were rescued are in a serious condition.

The whirlwind when it struck the Olive caused her to go over on her beam's end, and when she righted it was only to sink on account of the water she had taken. A majority of the passengers and crew were below at the time and had no opportunity to reach the pilot house of the vessel. This point was the only portion left above water and in it, standing waist deep from the time of the accident until 6 o'clock in the morning, Capt. George H. Withy and five others were saved. Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock the river steamer Pettit hove in sight and rescued the almost frozen survivors.

The Olive was a small singlescrew steamer, owned by J. A. Pretlow of Franklin, Va., and has been plying between North Carolina and Virginia for several years. She left Franklin last evening for Edenton and had almost reached her destination when the cyclone struck her.

Quack Lived High.

Berlin, Feb. 18.—Herr Nardenkott, whose name in large black type has been a feature for years in the German press in connection with nostrums, has been sentenced in contumacy to three years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $900 after a trial which had been a fortnight's sensation. Nardenkott spent millions of marks in advertising, lived richly and contrived to defy the medical societies and public prosecutors for years, and now he has escaped punishment by going to England and forfeiting his bail. Nardenkott on one occasion, it was alleged during the trial, being in a great hurry to satisfy some of his patients, simply filled their bottles with soapy water from a wash bowl.
